ELEVENTH YEAR UNDER MACK BROWN: With Mack Brown entering his 11th season at Texas, he is just the fourth coach in the 115 years of Texas football to coach the Longhorns for at least a decade and just the second UT coach to win 100 games. Darrell Royal, who won 167 games while at Texas, has the longest tenure at 20 years, while D.X. Bible and Fred Akers each coached in Austin for 10 seasons. With a 103-25 (.805) record at UT, Mack Brown is the architect of the nation's best record during that stretch. Even more impressive, Brown has led the Horns to a 76-14 (.844) mark over the last seven seasons, which also ranks first nationally, and includes four 11-win seasons (2001-02 and 2004-05). The 11-win seasons set the bar at Texas before the Horns' record-setting, 13-win campaign in 2005.

TEXAS COMING OFF NATION-LEADING SEVENTH CONSECUTIVE 10-WIN SEASON: The Texas Longhorns finished the 2007 season 10-3, giving them at least 10 wins in each of the last seven seasons, a feat unmatched by any other program nationally. Overall, Texas' 103 victories over the last 10 years are the most in the nation. The Horns also have won more Big 12 games (65) than any other team in the conference during that time.

STRING OF SUCCESS: With a 2007 No. 10 final ranking, Texas has finished the year ranked among the nation's Top 15 in each of the last eight seasons, a Longhorn best. In addition, UT has finished in the Top 10 five of the last seven seasons (2001, '02, '04, '05 and '07). You have to go back to Darrell Royal's string of success in the late 1960s, when the Horns finished among the Top Five four out of five years (1968-72), to equal that consistency in UT history.

BOWL ROLL: Texas set a school record by winning a bowl game for the fourth straight year after defeating Arizona State in the Holiday Bowl. They are one of only three schools nationally to accomplish that feat. The Holiday Bowl win marked UT's sixth bowl victory in the last seven years, including two BCS triumphs and a BCS Championship Game victory. Mack Brown's seven bowl victories at UT trail only Darrell Royal's eight wins.

LONGHORN RETURNEES: The Longhorns return 10 starters (5 offense/4 defense/1 specialist) and 47 lettermen (25 offense/18 defense/4 specialists) from the 2007 squad. Among the returning offensive and defensive starters, UT welcomes back 12 players who have combined to start 191 games (109 offense/82 defense). When you add in eight other returning veterans who have combined to start 20 games (4 offense/16 defense), Texas' 2008 squad features 20 returnees with starting experience on offense or defense. That group has combined to start 211 career games (113 offense/98 defense).

OFFENSIVE RETURNEES: Texas returns nine players with starting experience at five different positions in 2008. That group, which includes three players that earned mention on one of the All-Big 12 teams, helped pace an offense that ranked 13th nationally in total offense (462.9 ypg), 14th in scoring offense (37.2 ppg) and 17th in rushing offense (207.5 ypg).

DEFENSIVE RETURNEES: The Texas defense returns five starters at four positions and 10 players with starting experience for the 2008 season. Texas' 10 returnees with starting experience have combined for 98 career starts. That group helped Texas finish sixth nationally and first in the Big 12 in rushing defense after giving up just 93.4 yards per game.

Mack Brown

Success with integrity has been the theme of the 35 years of collegiate coaching for Texas Longhorns head football coach Mack Brown.

In his 24 years as a head coach, Brown has produced winning programs everywhere he has been. His path over the past 12 football seasons has taken him and his teams to the pinnacle of his sport, topped off by his unbeaten and National Championship team in 2005.

Brown is the only coach in the country to produce teams that have won at least 10 games in each of the last seven years, and counting his final two seasons at North Carolina, he is the only coach to lead his teams to at least nine wins in each of the last 12 seasons. In addition, his Longhorns are the only team in the country to rank in the Top 15 of the final BCS poll in each of the last nine years. Brown ranks second to Florida State's Bobby Bowden in consecutive winning seasons with 18 and consecutive bowl appearances with 16.

During his 10 seasons at Texas, Brown has taken a program coming off a 4-7 season and five non-winning seasons in the 10 years prior to his arrival to a UT-record 10 straight bowl games and finished the year ranked among the nation's Top Six four times and the Top 15 nine times. The Longhorns also have an active streak of four consecutive bowl wins, which is a UT first. Over the Brown decade, Texas has posted the nation's longest active streaks for consecutive nine-win (10) and 10-win (seven) seasons. Both of those streaks also are UT records.

Brown's UT teams won or tied for the Big 12 South Division title four times, and his 103 victories in his 10 seasons rank him second only to Darrell Royal in victories at Texas. He also is one of only nine active coaches at NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) schools who have won 100 games at their current school. Of the 79 coaches that have ever won 100 games at a FBS school, Brown is the 13th-fastest to reach the century mark (124 games) and the second-fastest among active coaches.

Brown's Longhorns, who recorded 21 straight victories during the 2005-07 seasons (second-longest streak in UT history), have won 40 of their last 45 games. The 21 consecutive wins is the best Longhorn mark since Darrell Royal's Wishbone-era team won 30 straight games and 33 of 34 between 1968 and 1971.

Over the last several years, Brown's program has had a consistency of success unmatched by any other program, culminating with the National Championship in 2005. The dramatic 41-38 victory over No. 1 USC in the BCS National Championship game gave the Longhorns their first National Championship since 1970.

Before the Rose Bowl win in 2006, a 38-37 victory over No. 2 Michigan in Texas' first BCS game, the 2005 Rose Bowl, was another notch in Brown's remarkable record as a head football coach. The back-to-back BCS victories marked a high point in a career that includes success at every level, including the rare accomplishment of building Top Five programs at two different institutions.

With three of his last seven teams ranked among the Top Five nationally prior to this season, Brown has become one of only a handful of coaches in NCAA history to lead two different teams into the elite top five. Brown, whose 1997 North Carolina team was ranked No. 4 nationally, is only the second to do it within a five-year period, and the only man to accomplish it so quickly in the post-World War II era.

In his previous 10 seasons at Texas, Brown's teams have finished ranked in the nation's Top 15 nine times, including Top Six finishes in four of the last seven years. During his last 16 years (10 at Texas/six at UNC), Brown has engineered trips to 16 bowl games, 10 seasons with 10-plus wins, 14 years of at least nine victories, 14 Top 25 rankings and 157 victories.

Brown's Longhorn squads have featured a Heisman Trophy winner (Ricky Williams), two Maxwell Award winners (Ricky Williams, Vince Young), two Doak Walker Award winners (Cedric Benson, Ricky Williams), two Thorpe Award winners (Michael Huff, Aaron Ross), a Butkus Award and Nagurski Trophy winner (Derrick Johnson), a Davey O'Brien Award winner (Vince Young), a Draddy Trophy winner (Dallas Griffin), 39 All-Americans, 55 first-team All Big-12 selections, three Big 12 Offensive Players of the Year, four Big 12 Defensive Players of the Year and 10 Big 12 Freshman of the Year honorees. Also, in 24 years as a head coach, the NFL has drafted 88 of Brown's student-athletes, including 17 players (13 Texas/four North Carolina) who have been drafted in the first round in the past 10 NFL drafts.

Mack Brown with Lynn Swann, Joe Paterno and Bill Powers as Brown was honored by UT with a Distinguished Chair for Leadership in Global Affairs

Under Brown, the Longhorns have been equally impressive off the field. Texas has led the Big 12 in both years of existence of the NCAA's APR and in that span has also led the conference in academic all-conference selections. In 2007, Texas had 23 Academic All-Big 12 picks, including 16 with first-team accolades. The 16 first-team honorees were as many as any other school had in its combined first- and second-team selections.

In addition, both Dallas Griffin and Derek Lokey earned ESPN The Magazine first-team Academic All-America honors with Griffin winning the Draddy Award, which is also known as the "academic Heisman." The team also had 14 players earn the Provost Award for a 4.0 GPA during a semester of the 2007 calendar year. The Longhorns have an active streak of seven consecutive semesters with at least 40 players earning a 3.0 GPA or better.

A native of Cookeville, Tenn., Brown played his college football at Vanderbilt and Florida State, and began his coaching career as an assistant at Southern Mississippi in 1975. He followed that with stops at Memphis State, Iowa State and LSU. He served as head coach at Appalachian State, offensive coordinator at Oklahoma and as head coach at Tulane before beginning a stint at North Carolina where he took the Tar Heels from a 2-20 beginning to a contender for the National Championship 10 years later. His 1996 Carolina team finished ranked 10th in the country, and in 1997, they were fourth nationally.

Brown is a member of the American Football Coaches Association Board of Directors and following the 2005 National Championship season was honored by UT with the Mack Brown Distinguished Chair for Leadership in Global Affairs. He is one of a very few coaches in college football history to be endowed with such a chair.

Brown and his wife, Sally, have four children, Matt, Katherine, Barbara and Chris.

Darrell Royal and Mack Brown with the National Championship trophy

"I don't want this to be the best thing that's ever happened in your life. When you're 54, I don't want you to say, 'Winning a football game is the best thing that ever happened in my life.' You'll have it and you'll be a champion for the rest of your life. You make sure that's one of the best sports things in your life, but you promise me that if you have enough about you to win a National Championship, then you have enough about you to be a great citizen, a great role model, a great father and a great leader in your family. That's what we're looking for when you get out of here."

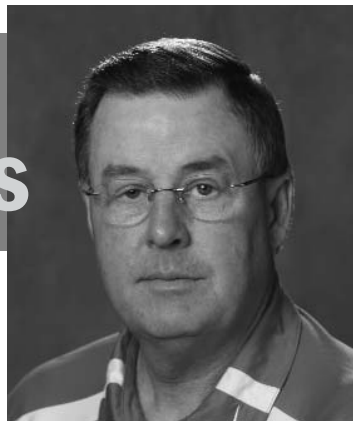
Greg Davis

Offensive Coordinator
Quarterbacks



For more information on Greg Davis, visit www.MackBrown-TexasFootball.com/Coaches

A 36-year coaching veteran, Greg Davis is in his 11th year as offensive coordinator/QBs coach at Texas. As the architect of one of the nation's premier offensive attacks at Texas the past 10 years, Davis has earned national respect and accolades. He was honored as the nation's top assistant coach with the Frank Broyles Award after a record-setting 2005 campaign. Texas has had just four QBs start a game in the NFL, and Davis has tutored two of them (Chris Simms, Vince Young).

Under his guidance, the Longhorns have produced eight of the top nine passing seasons, nine of the top 11 total offense seasons and the top six scoring campaigns in UT history. His offense has produced 34 of the 57 500-yard total offense games in school history during the past 10 seasons, including four of the top six performances and a school-best 692 yards (vs. Rice, 1998). In 2005, UT set season records for total offense (6,657) and points (652). The 652 points were also the highest total in NCAA history.

Davis' UT offense has produced three of the last 10 Big 12 Offensive Players of the Year — RB Ricky Williams, 1998; QB Major Applewhite, 1999; QB Vince Young, 2005. During his 10 years at UT, he has tutored 29 first-team All-Big 12 performers and 38 others who have earned recognition among the All-Big 12 second, third and honorable mention teams.

As UT's quarterbacks coach, Davis has tutored a Maxwell Award winner, a Heisman Trophy finalist, a Davey O'Brien Award winner, three Davey O'Brien Award semifinalists, three Big 12 Offensive Players of the Year, a National Freshman of the Year and three QBs that earned league Freshman of the Year honors.

A 1973 graduate of McNeese State, Davis has coached on the high school level in Louisiana and Texas, while making stops in the college ranks at Texas A&M, Tulane, Arkansas, Georgia and North Carolina. Davis was the head coach at Tulane from 1988-91.

He and his wife, Patsy, have two children, Greg Jr. (RBs coach at Tulane) and Stacey, and five grandchildren. Greg Jr. and his wife, Karen, have two daughters, Taylor and Kaylen. Stacey and her husband, Kory, have three children, daughter, Brook, and sons, K.J. and Davis.

The Muschamp File

A 13-year coaching veteran who has coordinated successful defenses at both the collegiate and NFL levels, Will Muschamp joined the Texas staff in January 2008 as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach.

Muschamp is considered one of the nation's premier defensive coordinators and was a 2007 Broyles Award Finalist (nation's top assistant coach). He joined the Texas staff after spending the previous two years as defensive coordinator at Auburn and seven of the last eight years as a defensive coordinator in college and the NFL.

In his five years as a coordinator at Auburn and LSU, Muschamp's defenses ranked among the nation's top 10 in total defense five times and scoring defense three times, while ranking in the top 15 in scoring defense the other two.

Muschamp spent the 2005 season in the NFL, serving as the Miami Dolphins assistant head coach for defense. He led the Dolphins to top 10 rankings in yards per play (4.7/7th), yards per rush (3.7/7th) and yards per pass (6.0/9th) and Miami ranked second in the NFL in sacks (49) that year.

Prior to his stop in the NFL, Muschamp coached at LSU from 2001-04, serving as defensive coordinator from 2002-04. During his tenure, LSU won the 2003 National Championship and two SEC titles (2001, 2003). His defense led the nation in total defense (252.0 ypg) and scoring defense (11.0 ppg) during the championship season. That unit topped the SEC in every major defensive category and also ranked second nationally in pass efficiency defense (89.8 rating) and third in rushing defense (67.0 ypg).

The 1994 Georgia graduate was a four-year lettermen at safety for the Bulldogs (1991-94) where he was teammates with current UT football staff members George Wynn and Donnie Maib. Current UT coaches Greg Davis and Mac McWhorter also served on the Georgia coaching staff during that period. Muschamp was selected as a defensive co-captain as a senior and was a part of two bowl teams. He also earned a spot on the SEC Academic Honor Roll in 1993.

A native of Rome, Ga., Muschamp and his wife, Carol, have two sons, Jackson and Whit.

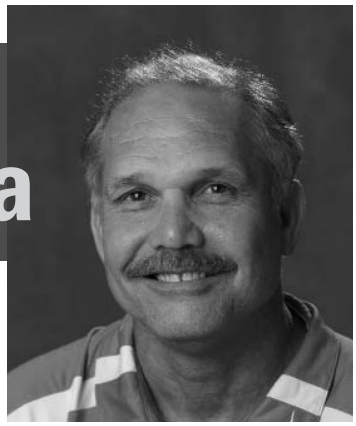
Duane Akina

Assistant Head Coach
Defensive Backs



For more information on Duane Akina, visit www.MackBrown-TexasFootball.com/Coaches

A 30-year coaching veteran who has spent 20 of his seasons as an assistant working with defensive backs, Duane Akina has tutored three Thorpe Award winners, five Thorpe Award finalists and 25 defensive backs who have gone on to play in the NFL (nine current, five starters). He brought his talent and techniques to Texas seven years ago, was promoted to co-defensive coordinator in 2004 and now serves as assistant head coach in 2008.

In seven seasons at Texas, Akina's secondary has helped the Horns rank among the nation's Top 10 in pass defense four times and featured consecutive Jim Thorpe Award winners in Michael Huff (2005) and Aaron Ross (2006) to go along with nine first-team All-Big 12 picks.

Akina joined the UT program after spending the previous 14 seasons at Arizona, where he served as the associate head coach and was tabbed defensive coordinator in December 2000. During his tenure at Arizona, he was a versatile coach who worked with both sides of the ball. Akina spent his final five seasons as defensive backs coach and nine of his 14 seasons working with the Wildcats' secondary. He also was UA's offensive coordinator from 1992-95.

A native of Honolulu, Akina is a 1979 graduate of the University of Washington. He earned three letters as a quarterback, and upon completing his eligibility, served as a graduate assistant coach at UW.

Hawaii's Prep Athlete of the Year at Honolulu's Punahou High School in 1974-75, he was a three-time all-league selection as a quarterback in football and a guard in basketball. Akina and his wife, Donna, have five children, Kainoa, Keoni, Dionicia, Alli and Kamalii.

A record-setting quarterback at UT and former graduate assistant coach for Mack Brown, Major Applewhite is a six-year coaching veteran who joined the Texas staff in January 2008 as assistant head coach and running backs coach.

Applewhite returned to his alma mater after spending the 2007 season as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Alabama, where he was the youngest coordinator in the NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS).

In Applewhite's one year at Alabama, the Crimson Tide bounced back from a losing season in 2006 to post a 7-6 record under first-year coach Nick Saban. Under his guidance, Alabama improved its offensive output by nearly 40 yards per game (335.9 to 373.8) and increased its scoring from 22.9 points per game to 27.1.

Prior to Alabama, Applewhite spent a season as offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Rice where, as the youngest coordinator in NCAA Division I, he directed an offense that scored the most points (350) and gained the third-most yards (4,486) in Owls' history. Under his guidance, Rice produced a 1,000-yard rusher, a 1,000-yard receiver and a 1,000-yard passer for the first time in school history en route to the program's first appearance in a bowl game since 1961. The 2006 Rice offense produced a 109-point improvement in scoring over the previous season.

Before his stint at Rice, Applewhite joined former Longhorn Defensive Coordinator Greg Robinson at Syracuse where he served as quarterbacks coach in 2005. Applewhite's coaching career began where he starred, at Texas, where he served as a graduate assistant coach and worked with the offensive line for two seasons (2003-04). In his final year in 2004, the Longhorns went 11-1, beat No. 12 Michigan in the Rose Bowl and earned a No. 4 final ranking - it's highest since 1981.

The Longhorns' team captain in 2001, Applewhite helped Texas to four straight bowl games (1999 and 2000 Cotton Bowls/2000 and 2001 Holiday Bowls) and posted a 22-8 record as a starter. He capped his career by throwing for a UT record 473 yards and a Longhorn-bowl-game best four TDs en route to Offensive MVP honors in a 47-43 victory over No. 20 Washington in the 2001 Holiday Bowl. The 1999 co-Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year still holds UT records for career (8,353) and season (3,357/1999) passing yards, as well as career TD passes (60). He threw for 2,453 yards and 18 TDs, UT freshman records at the time, in claiming Big 12 Freshman of the Year honors in 1998.

A native of Baton Rouge, La., Applewhite threw for 50 touchdowns and ran for eight more in two years as a starter at Catholic High School. He was tabbed an honorable mention prep all-America by USA Today after leading Catholic High to a 13-1 record and No. 10 national ranking as a senior. He was 25-2 as a starter.

Applewhite completed his degree in sport management at Texas in December 2002. His wife, Julie, is also a UT graduate.

Applewhite is UT's all-time leading passer and was the Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year in 1999.

One of the most respected high school coaches in Texas for 14 years and a 25-year coaching veteran, Bruce Chambers has continued that success at The University of Texas. Chambers is in his sixth season as UT's tight ends coach after spending the previous five years working with the Longhorns running backs. He was promoted to assistant head coach in 2004 before being named recruiting coordinator in 2005.

Chambers had the difficult task of replacing statistically the greatest tight end in UT history in 2006 after David Thomas' graduation. But, under Chambers' guidance, Jermichael Finley tallied 76 receptions (No. 3 on UT's all-time list) for 947 yards (No. 6 on UT's all-time list) and five TDs in just two seasons before being drafted in the third round by the Green Bay Packers.

Prior to 2006, Chambers guided Thomas to one of the best careers by a tight end in UT history. In 2005, Thomas set the single-season record for receptions by a tight end with 50, finished second on the single-season list in yards (613) and tied for third in TD receptions (five). In total, Thomas rewrote the record book under Chambers, finishing his career as Texas' all-time tight end leader in receptions (98), yards (1,367) and TDs (15).

In his first five seasons at Texas, Chambers coached three of the ten 1,000-yard rushers (Ricky Williams, 1998/Hodges Mitchell, 1999-2000/Cedric Benson, 2001-02) in school history and became the first position coach since Fred Akers to have two different backs earn first-team all-conference honors in three consecutive seasons. He coached a 1,000-yard rusher in each of his five years as UT's running backs coach.

Chambers joined the UT staff from Dallas' Carter High School, where he helped coach one of the state's most successful football programs for 14 seasons. He was the head coach and athletics director during his final two years and also taught speech and journalism classes at the school.

While at Carter, Chambers helped develop future NFL players Jessie Armstead (LB, New York Giants & Washington Redskins), Jirmetrius Butler (CB, St. Louis Rams), Greg Hill (RB, Kansas City Chiefs & Detroit Lions), Kendall Jacox (OL, New Orleans Saints) and Darryl Jones (WR, New York Giants).

A four-year letterman as a wide receiver and a two-time letterwinner in track and field at North Texas, Chambers earned his degree in journalism in 1982. His wife's name is Cathy.

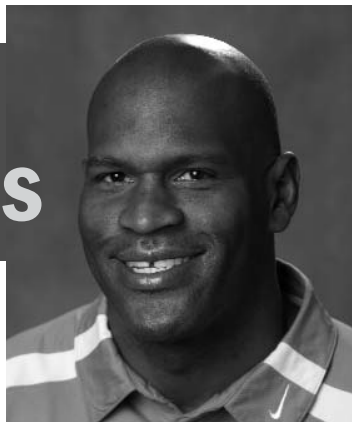
Oscar Giles

Defensive Ends



For more information on Oscar Giles, visit www.MackBrown-TexasFootball.com/Coaches

A former Longhorn star, Oscar Giles enters his fourth season as defensive ends coach at The University of Texas. It's Giles' second coaching stint with the Longhorns.

Since returning to Texas, Giles has mentored a second-team All-American, a Hendricks Award finalist, five All-Big 12 honorees, a National Defensive Freshman of the Year and a Big 12 Defensive Freshman of the Year. He also helped Tim Crowder and Brian Robison in their quest to reach the NFL. Crowder was taken in the second round by the Denver Broncos, while Robison was selected early in the fourth round by the Minnesota Vikings in the 2007 NFL Draft.

A four-year letterwinner at Texas (1987-90), Giles played defensive end and linebacker for the Atlanta Falcons. He went on to play in the Canadian Football League from 1994-97 and helped the Toronto Argonauts win the Grey Cup Championship in 1996.

A three-year starter at UT, Giles earned All-SWC honors as a senior, when he helped the Longhorns to the 1990 SWC Championship and an appearance in the 1991 Cotton Bowl. He led Texas in sacks in 1988 (6.5) and 1989 (7.0) and finished with 22 in his career (T-No. 10 on the UT all-time list). A semifinalist for the Outland Trophy and two-time GTE Academic All-SWC selection, his nine career fumble recoveries are tied for second on the UT all-time chart.

A native of Palacios, Texas, Giles earned a bachelor's of science degree in speech communications from Texas in 1991. He and his wife, Kim, have one daughter, Olivia.

Giles celebrates a victory with Brian Orakpo.

A veteran of 19 seasons as a collegiate assistant coach, including 13 tutoring wide receivers, Bobby Kennedy is in his fifth year as an assistant coach at Texas. He works with the Longhorn wide receivers and was named assistant recruiting coordinator in 2005.

In 2007, the wide receivers finished with 187 receptions for 2,275 yards and 18 TDs despite the loss of Biletnikoff Award candidate Limas Sweed, who was drafted in the second round of the 2008 NFL Draft by the Pittsburgh Steelers, to injury for most of the season. Under Kennedy's guidance, senior Nate Jones led the team with 70 receptions (T-No. 2 on UT's single-season list). Combined with junior Quan Cosby's 60 receptions, the 130 catches moved the pair to second on UT's single-season list for receiving duos.

Kennedy's 2006 group of wide receivers combined to post 158 receptions for 2,180 yards and 25 TDs, while helping break UT's record for single-season TD passes. Limas Sweed led the group for the second straight year, earning first-team All-Big 12 honors. His 12 TD catches tied UT's single-season record. Sweed also broke Roy Williams' UT record by making a TD reception in seven consecutive games.

A year earlier, Kennedy's wide receiving corps tallied 142 receptions for 2,195 yards and 16 TDs, helping Texas tie the single-season UT record for TD passes and finish third in single-season passing yards.

Prior to joining the Texas staff, Kennedy spent two years coaching wide receivers at Washington. Under his guidance, Huskies receiver Reggie Williams earned All-America honors twice before being selected by the Jacksonville Jaguars in the first round (ninth pick) of the 2004 NFL Draft.

Before Washington, Kennedy spent time at Arizona, Wake Forest, Wyoming, Penn State and Illinois. A 1989 graduate of Northern Colorado, Kennedy began his coaching career on the high school level in his hometown of Boulder. The Boulder High School graduate began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at Illinois (1990-91).

Kennedy was a quarterback for Northern Colorado coach Ron Simonson from 1985-88. He and his wife, LaShonda, were married in 1998.

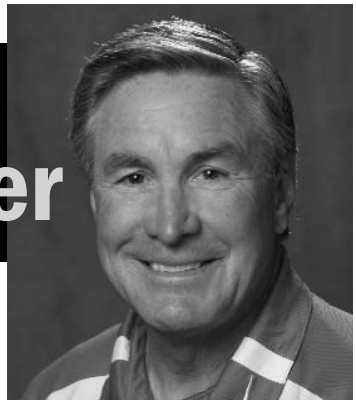
Mac McWhorter

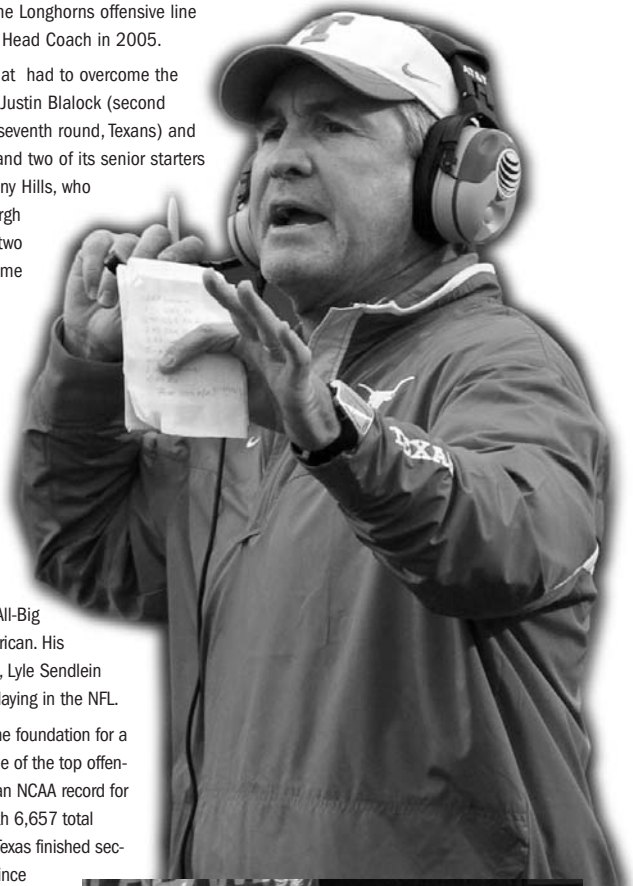
Associate Head Coach
Offensive Line



For more information on Mac McWhorter, visit www.MackBrown-TexasFootball.com/Coaches

Mac McWhorter is in his seventh year on UT's coaching staff. McWhorter serves as the Longhorns offensive line coach. He was promoted to Associate Head Coach in 2005.

McWhorter guided a line in 2007 that had to overcome the loss of three players to the NFL, OG/T Justin Blalock (second round, Falcons), OG Kasey Studdard (seventh round, Texans) and C Lyle Sendlein (free agent, Arizona), and two of its senior starters to injury. First-team All-American OT Tony Hills, who was a fourth-round pick of the Pittsburgh Steelers, had his season cut short by two games, and C Dallas Griffin, who became Texas' first Draddy Trophy winner and was first-team Academic All-America, missed the last three. Despite youth and frequently rotating lineups, the line still paved the way for 462.9 yards of total offense (13th NCAA), 207.5 yards rushing (17th NCAA) and 37.2 points per game (14th NCAA).



In 2006, McWhorter helped produce a unanimous All-American, a Lombardi Award and Outland Trophy finalist, four All-Big 12 performers and a Freshman All-American. His three graduating starters (Justin Blalock, Lyle Sendlein and Kasey Studdard) are all currently playing in the NFL.

A year before, the offensive line was the foundation for a National Championship and produed one of the top offensive seasons in NCAA history. Texas set an NCAA record for points scored (652) and a UT record with 6,657 total yards. For the second consecutive year, Texas finished second nationally in rushing (274.9 ypg). Vince Young also reached 1,000 yards rushing to extend Texas' national-leading streak of 1,000-yard rushers to 11 seasons.

McWhorter's coaching career includes stops as a head coach at both the collegiate and high school levels, as well as assistant coaching positions at high-profile football schools such as Alabama, Clemson, Georgia and Georgia Tech.

McWhorter was a three-year letterwinner and two-year starter on the Georgia offensive line under head coach Vince Dooley from 1971-73. He earned All-Southeastern Conference honors as a senior. He also was a two-time Academic All-SEC pick (1972-73). He earned his degree from Georgia in 1974.

McWhorter and his wife, Rebecca, have three children, Kasay, Katie and Mac, and one granddaughter, Mercer.

Mike Tolleson

Special Teams Coordinator
Defensive Tackles

For more information on Mike Tolleson, visit www.MackBrown-TexasFootball.com/Coaches

A veteran of 35 years of coaching who has experience as a defensive coordinator, Mike Tolleson is in his 11th year as defensive tackles coach and ninth year as special teams coordinator at Texas. Six of the Longhorn DTs he has tutored are currently in the NFL. Tolleson came to Texas after spending numerous years perfecting his craft at the high school, collegiate and professional levels.

At Texas, Tolleson's development of the Horns' interior line has been crucial in transforming a defense that allowed 241.5 rushing yards per game in 1997 to consecutive top six finishes in 2006 (61.2, third NCAA/UT record) and 2007 (93.4, sixth NCAA). UT's tackles have helped the defense allow just twenty-five 100-yard rushers in the last 114 games.

Under Tolleson, Texas' reputation of producing outstanding defensive linemen has continued to grow. It was never more evident than in the 2006 Super Bowl, where two former Tolleson protégés played major roles for both teams in Pittsburgh's Casey Hampton and Seattle's Marcus Tubbs. In addition, Detroit Lions' DT Shaun Rogers joined Hampton on the 2006 Pro Bowl roster, while Derek Lokey, Frank Okam and Rod Wright joined the group over the last three seasons.

A native of Anniston, Ala., Tolleson was a two-year letterman at Tampa University before transferring to Delta State, where he lettered in football and track. A 1970 graduate of Delta State, Tolleson earned a master's degree from Livingston University in 1973.

Tolleson and his wife, Wilda Sue, have three daughters, Michelle, Shannon and Heather.

Cleve Bryant, who has worked as a head coach, assistant coach and recruiting coordinator in both college and the NFL, is in his 11th year as the associate athletics director for football operations at The University of Texas.

In that role, Bryant works extensively in handling and supervising all of the administrative operations and responsibilities of the football program. He oversees everything from team travel and event scheduling, to recruiting weekends, housing and gameday operations.

Bryant, a former Longhorns wide receivers coach, rejoined the UT staff in 1998 after serving as an assistant coach under Mack Brown at North Carolina from 1995-97. At Carolina, he directed the passing game and was the recruiting coordinator.

A native of Canton, Ohio, Bryant was a star quarterback at Ohio University. He earned All-Mid-American Conference honors in 1967 and MAC Player of the Year accolades in 1968 while leading the Bobcats to back-to-back league titles. He was selected by the Denver Broncos in the 1969 NFL Draft. Bryant was also the head coach at his alma mater from 1984-90.

Bryant was inducted into the Ohio University Hall of Fame in 1975 and the Citrus Bowl Hall of Fame (which in 1968 was the Tangerine Bowl) in 1988. He set a Tangerine Bowl record with five TDs (four pass/one rush) in 1968.

He and his wife, Jean, a life skills counselor at UT, have two sons, Rodney and Kyle, and one granddaughter, Jasmin.

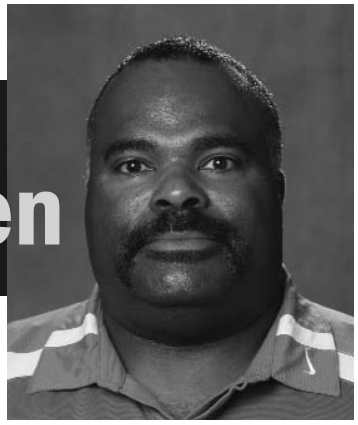
Jeff Madden

Assistant Athletics Director for Strength and Conditioning



For more information on Jeff Madden, visit www.MackBrown-TexasFootball.com/Coaches

Jeff Madden, who has been honored by his peers as one of the nation's leading authorities on physical development, is in his 11th year as an assistant athletics director. He was inducted into the USA Strength and Conditioning Coaches Hall of Fame in June 2003. He went on to be named the 2004 National Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year by the Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society and the 2005 College Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year by Samson Equipment.

Madden, who is currently the Vice President of the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Association, was one of just 10 coaches nationally to receive the title of Master Strength and Conditioning Coach at the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCA) convention in 2001. The honor represents what the association says "is the highest honor that can be achieved as a strength and conditioning coach and represents professionalism, knowledge, experience and expertise."

He also was honored with the Culligan Holiday Bowl's Admiral U.S. Grant Sharp Trophy in 2000, which was voted on by the Longhorns team and is bestowed upon an individual that is dedicated to team success.

Recognized worldwide as an authority on explosive power training, Madden was named the National Strength and Conditioning Specialist of the Year in 1996 by the International Sports Sciences Association. He also was recognized as a Master Elite Strength and Conditioning Coach by the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association in 2000.

In 1988, Madden was Master Certified by the National Association of Speed and Explosion (NASE). The Longhorns strength and conditioning coach has played a critical role in the design and creation of some of the nation's leading collegiate strength and conditioning facilities. The Nassar Al-Rashid weight room is Madden's fourth facility, and it contains state-of-the-art, cutting-edge equipment that is user-friendly and second-to-none in design implementation.

Madden is on the board of directors of the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association, is on the editorial advisory board of Sports Speed magazine and is a certified expert by the National Association of Speed and Explosion. He also has a 602-pound bench press to his credit, making him one of the top bench pressers in the world.

Madden was Master Certified in May 1991 by the International Sports Sciences Association (ISSA), recognizing him as one of the world leaders in the profession of sports development. He also was a unanimous selection to the ISSA Board of Directors.

He and his wife, Brenda, have two sons, Brandon and Bryan.

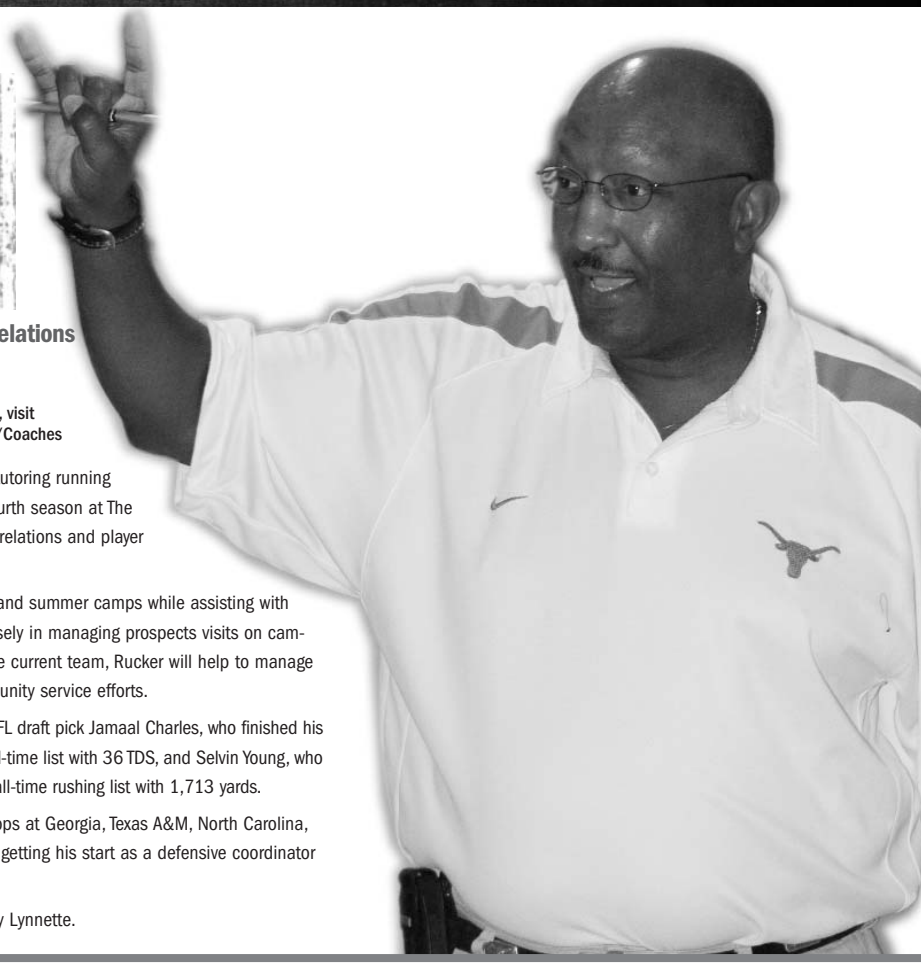
Ken Rucker

Director of High School Relations and Player Development

For more information on Ken Rucker, visit www.MackBrown-TexasFootball.com/Coaches



A veteran of 29 seasons as a collegiate assistant coach, including 21 tutoring running backs, nine in the state of Texas and 12 in the Southwest, Ken Rucker enters his fourth season at The University of Texas. He begins his first in the new position of director of high school relations and player development after spending three years as running backs coach.

In his new role, Rucker will work extensively with the High School Coaches Clinic and summer camps while assisting with the off-the-field development of the Longhorn football players. He will also work closely in managing prospects visits on campus and coordinate campus and facility tours for unofficial visits. In working with the current team, Rucker will help to manage and oversee many of their off-the-field responsibilities while assisting in their community service efforts.

In his three seasons as running backs coach at Texas, Rucker tutored third-round NFL draft pick Jamaal Charles, who finished his career fourth on UT's all-time rushing list with 3,328 yards and tied for fifth on UT's all-time list with 36 TDS, and Selvin Young, who plays for the Denver Broncos and finished his UT career ranked 20th on the school's all-time rushing list with 1,713 yards.

Prior to his time at Texas, Rucker coached all over the United States, including stops at Georgia, Texas A&M, North Carolina, Baylor, Arkansas, the Air Force Academy, Richmond and Appalachian State, all after getting his start as a defensive coordinator on the high school level.

A native of Morristown, Tenn., Rucker and his wife, Nancy, have one daughter, Kenny Lynnette.

George Wynn

Assistant Athletics Director for Football Operations

For more information on George Wynn, visit www.MackBrown-TexasFootball.com/Coaches

George Wynn enters his fourth season as assistant athletics director for football operations at Texas. Wynn joined the Longhorn staff after spending six seasons at Arizona State as director of football operations.

Wynn assists Associate Athletics Director Cleve Bryant in scheduling, team travel, planning player-related activities, aiding in the day-to-day operations of the football program and coordinating the Longhorns football camps.

Wynn received his bachelor's degree in criminal justice and master's degree in sports management from the University of Georgia, where he was a three-year starter at cornerback for the Bulldogs from 1989-91. He was a team captain his senior season and earned Academic All-Southeastern Conference honors for his diligence in the classroom.

Wynn then took his game to the pro level, where he started at cornerback for the CFL's Saskatchewan Roughriders in 1992 before deciding to pursue a career in sports administration.

He and his wife, Leesha, have a son, Royce, and a daughter, Lena.

Mike Clark

- Texas sold a record 74,000 season ticket packages in 2006. That is 34,000 more than the school's all-time mark prior to Mack Brown's arrival. The number dropped slightly in 2007 due to reduced stadium capacity associated with the north end zone construction project.
- The Longhorns have led the Big 12 in attendance in seven of Mack Brown's 10 seasons at Texas.
- Texas averaged 85,144 fans per game in 2007 (No. 10 nationally) and has posted the top nine season attendance averages in Longhorns history over the past nine years.
- In 10 seasons under Mack Brown, Texas has played in front of 29 of its top 30 home crowds in school history.
  - Nearly one million fans attended Longhorns games in 1999, 2002, 2005, 2006 and 2007. In nine seasons under Mack Brown, Texas has been seen live by 8,946,363 college football fans.

Football Family

Everything that Mack Brown and his staff say and do illustrates that the Texas football program is more than just a team, it is a family. From the coaches and staff to the players and their families, everything the Longhorns football program endures is done with, as Coach Brown says, "One Heartbeat." As a result, over a Longhorn player's four- or five-year career, he will build relationships with teammates, coaches and staff members that will last a lifetime.

"The family atmosphere was great. It really felt like home. I was around those guys basically 24-7. I was with them early in the morning working out, I was with them in the evening at 7-on-7, so those guys felt like my brothers, and the coaches felt like parents. I felt like I could talk to any coach about any problem I had."

Former Texas and current NFL WRs Limas Sweed and Roy Williams. Like many former Longhorn teammates, Sweed credits Williams as a mentor.

"People choose Texas because they've heard about the family atmosphere there. A lot of guys I talk to in this locker room ask me about it because people have told them how much of a family we were at Texas. If you're looking for somewhere to go where everybody is real close and looks out for each other AND you win football games, Texas is the place to go."

"I didn't really understand the family atmosphere when I was being recruited. Once you get here, you find out what it truly is. We go through a lot together and you just naturally start bonding. You can depend on people, like a family. The coaches are all like father figures. Then the icing on the cake is having Coach Brown and Miss Sally really welcome you in, letting you know everyone here is just as important as everyone else."

In returning to Oklahoma City to honor 2006 Thorpe Award winner Aaron Ross, 2005 winner Michael Huff surprised UT defensive backs coach Duane Akina by purchasing a copy of the trophy for his coach.

Mack and Sally Brown manage the UT football program with a caring and personal touch.

"I thought long and hard about how I could thank (coach Akina), and since this trophy means so much to him, I figured the best thing I could give the man who gave me so much was his own Thorpe trophy."

— Michael Huff, 2005 Thorpe Award winner and current Oakland Raider

"I think the word 'family' is a great way to describe the football program at Texas. Coach Brown is like a father figure to all of us and we can go to him with anything. The chemistry that grows between the players is unbelievable. Everybody jells together and no matter who you are, you're treated as an equal. I think that kind of camaraderie and chemistry took us a long way."

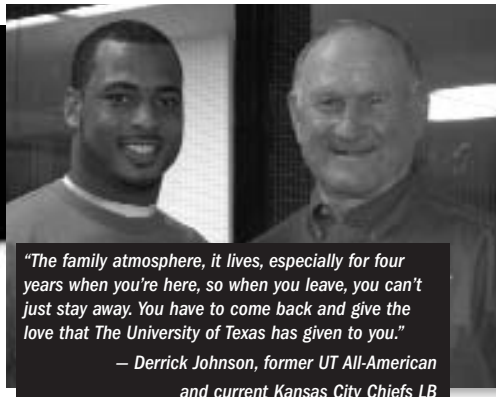
— Bo Scaife, former Longhorn tight end and current Tennessee Titan

"The best thing you can say about Coach Brown's players is that they are good kids who have a good work ethic. The University of Texas is an environment where you would want your son to be."

— Alonzo Highsmith, NFL veteran and Green Bay Packers scout

Derrick Johnson with UT legendary linebacker Tommy Nobis



"The family atmosphere, it lives, especially for four years when you're here, so when you leave, you can't just stay away. You have to come back and give the love that The University of Texas has given to you."

To be able to wear your T-ring or your National Championship ring with your head high is something I have thought about my whole childhood, and it happened."

— Lyle Sendlein, former Longhorn C and current Arizona Cardinal

Super Staff

From its directors of operations to its strength and conditioning and coaching staff, the Longhorns football staff features a diverse combination of youth and experience. Each and every staffer has been involved in their area long enough to know the ins and outs of the profession and is as knowledgeable as anyone in their field of expertise. The one thing that links them all together is they have a passion for student-athletes and are driven to produce the best football program in America.

Offensive coordinator Greg Davis was named winner of the 2005 Broyles Award, honoring the nation's top assistant coach.

"Not only is the UT coaching staff the best at teaching you the game, but they are also a lot of fun to be around. They love to joke around and spend time with the guys. That makes working harder in practice a lot easier."

— Chris Simms, former UT record-setting quarterback and current Tampa Bay Buccaneer

"You can tell they've had great preparation. They have come out focused for this football game."

— Bob Davie, ABC Sports during the 2007 Holiday Bowl

"The coaching at Texas is the best. That is why players come here. They're confident that we are going to get the best coaching in the country."

— Kyle Shanahan, UT letterman, Houston Texans offensive coordinator, and son of Denver Broncos head coach Mike Shanahan

"The UT coaches are like fathers away from home to the players and they help you on and off the field. Not only do they help you as players, but they help you as people."

— Derrick Johnson, UT All-American and 2005 Kansas City Chiefs first-round pick

"I love the staff at Texas,

We have the greatest coaches. Coach Akina has sent so many DBs into the NFL, just like all of the other position coaches. As a player, you know you can come in here and learn so much more than you have in the past from such a great staff."

— Michael Griffin, former UT safety and current Tennessee Titan

Defensive backs coach Duane Akina produced back-to-back Thorpe Award winners in Michael Huff (2005) and Aaron Ross (2006).

A former college standout at receiver, tight ends coach Bruce Chambers (right) spent 14 years as a high school coach before joining UT's staff in 1998.

Offensive line coach Mac McWhorter is a 34-year coaching veteran who has experience as both a high school and collegiate head coach.

"I will give Texas credit because they have a very good football team. We had a good game plan; they just had a better one."

— Mike Gundy, Oklahoma State head coach following Texas' 36-10 win over OSU in 2006

Will Muschamp is in his first season as defensive coordinator and LBs coach.

Super Staff

"What makes the UT coaches so great is there is a family atmosphere there. They are like fathers to all the guys — it's like you have 12 'Dads' on the team."

— Cory Redding, UT's 2002 Lombardi Trophy finalist and current Detroit Lions defensive lineman

Mike Tolleson not only helped train many of the top defensive tackles in UT history such as Casey Hampton, Frank Okam, Shaun Rogers, Marcus Tubbs and Rod Wright, but he also has spearheaded a successful Longhorns special teams unit.

Wide receivers coach Bobby Kennedy

Tight ends coach Bruce Chambers

Ken Rucker begins his first season as Director of High School Relations and Player Development after three seasons as running backs coach. He was presented with the Admiral's Trophy aboard the USS Ronald Reagan during the Holiday Bowl trip in December, honoring him as a source of constant inspiration to the team, who voted Rucker to receive the honor after prostate cancer surgery.

Defensive ends coach Oscar Giles

Assistant Athletics Director for Strength and Conditioning Jeff "Mad Dog" Madden is recognized as one of the premier coaches in his field.

"One thing you can say about the Texas coaching staff is that they know a lot about football. The great thing about the coaching staff that Coach Brown has is that they are really particular about making sure that you do the little things right and with the right technique and form. We did all the little things right and it went a long way in our winning a lot of football games. We were fundamentally sound. I love watching Coach Brown's defense and special teams. Special teams are something that is overlooked in college and he puts a lot of emphasis on it. It's really fun to watch them blocking kicks and returning kicks for touchdowns."*

— Ricky Williams, 1998 Heisman Trophy winner

"Coach Muschamp has been great.

He's worked with all kinds of defenses from the NFL to college, he's coached on a National Championship team, and he's coached every defense you can name. I think he's a great fit for us."

— Senior linebacker Rashad Bobino

Offensive line coach Mac McWhorter

"The coaching staff is great.

Coach Brown and his staff are there for us at all times, through coaching, through practice, through anything that we need - they are always there for us. I believe they are the best in the nation."

— Colt McCoy, junior QB

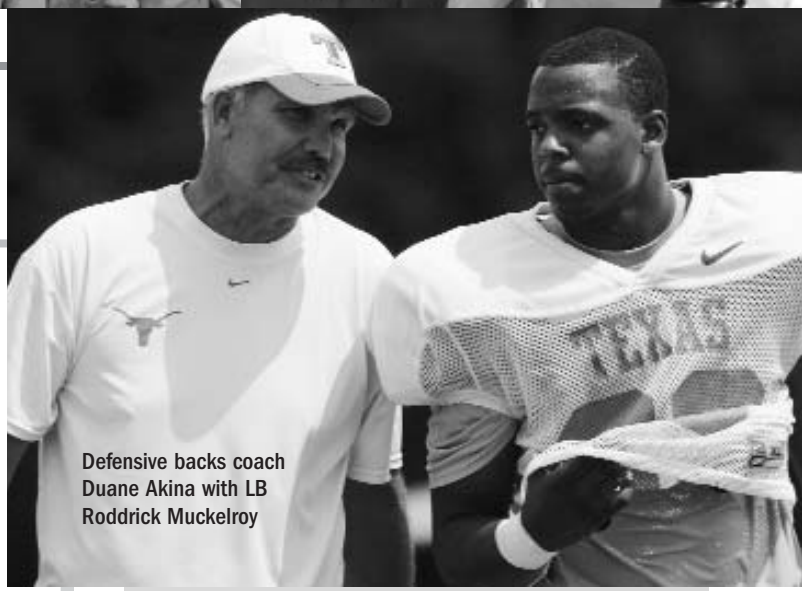
has a reputation as one of the nation's top offensive coordinators. In 10 seasons at Texas, he has led the Horns to nine of the top 11 total offense seasons and eight of the top nine passing seasons in school history.



Defensive backs coach Duane Akina with LB Roddrick Muckelroy

"Coach Akina is the best DB coach in the country, by far.

He has a track record to go behind that. He's put a lot of guys in the NFL, and a lot of them have succeeded there. That speaks a lot to Coach Akina and how he teaches you and prepares you for different situations."

— Tarell Brown, former Longhorn and current San Francisco 49er DB

Awesome Fans

"Our fans are great. Every game is packed, and they really show up for the spring game. The fans are out there having a good time. I'm always shocked to see how many people are there. It is amazing how much our fans support us."

— Vince Young, UT Maxwell and O'Brien Award winner and current Tennessee Titan

"Every time we run onto the field we know there's going to be a wave of orange cheering for us. Our stadium has always been loud, but it's going to a whole new level with almost 100,000 Longhorns filling it this season after the renovations."

— Roy Miller, senior defensive tackle

"The fans are awesome. They are loud, they are fun, and they support us. You couldn't ask for better fans. There is no feeling like running through the smoke into thousands of screaming fans all wearing burnt orange."

— Colt McCoy, junior quarterback

With renovations complete for the 2008 season, the Longhorns will play in front of some of the largest crowds in the nation, reaching almost 100,000.

Seven-time Tour de France winner and cycling legend Lance Armstrong is a frequent attendee of Texas football games.

Success

has gone hand-in-hand with crowd turnout at UT games. Through 115 seasons, Texas has responded with victories in 479 of 604 contests played in Austin. Texas has led its conference in attendance in 31 of the last 36 seasons and is a mainstay among the college football elite when it comes to fan appeal. Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium welcomes almost 100,000 Longhorns fans for each game.

Game Day Excitment

"Game day is off the charts. From us in the locker room dancing and listening to our music, getting hyped for the game, then we come in the tunnel and with the singing of 'The Eyes of Texas,' you can feel the momentum. When they release the smoke, it's game time, and everybody's ready."

— Limas Sweed, former UT and current Pittsburgh Steelers WRiver

ESPN's College GameDay studio show has been broadcast live from Austin five times.

In honor of the Texas football legacy, a game day tradition has each player touching the Longhorns (right) and the Freddie Steinmark Scoreboard (below) before they take the field at Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium.

After an energizing introduction on the nation's largest video board, Texas players charge onto Jamail Field amidst a sea of smoke on game day.

Packed stadiums, rowdy fans, fun and exciting traditions, national television audiences and thrilling plays are all a part of a Longhorn game day. Beginning with the team's arrival and their stroll through the thousands of fans awaiting their entrance to the dramatic smoke-filled entry to the field and the singing of "Texas Fight" in the locker room after a victory, there is nothing quite like the excitement of a UT football game.

"Game day excitement is awesome, from pre-game when you get off the bus and walk through the fans as they cheer, to running through the smoke. I can remember the first time I came through Darrell K Royal-Memorial Stadium. It is a feeling that you have to be there to experience it. There are no words that can express it."

— Colt McCoy, junior QB

Texas and Iowa's 2006 Alamo Bowl 6.0 rating translates into 5,521,220 households and an estimated 8.83 million viewers, making it the most-watched bowl game in ESPN history.

"On game days at Texas, you get a fresh new sense of Texas pride throughout the stadium when they give the Hook 'em Horns sign and sing 'The Eyes of Texas.' Coach Brown has established the true spirit of wearing the Burnt Orange and White together. The team, the faculty, the students, the alumni and the community are united together as family — and that's becoming a strong force again in Austin."

— Tommy Nobis, 1965 Longhorns Outland Trophy & Maxwell Award winner and NFL great

Spring Jamboree

With a mixture of game day fun and festivities and a number of lettermen reunion activities, Texas' Spring Football Jamboree has become an annual Austin extravaganza.

"Texas fans are great. There are more fans at the spring game than I ever played in front of in high school. We have more fans at the spring game than a lot of schools have at their games during the season. That makes you realize how important and special Texas Football is."

— Chris Simms, UT record-setting quarterback and current Tampa Bay Buccaneer

The annual lettermen's reunion and golf tournament bring together generations of Longhorns.

"This is really a place where the former players can bond and share the good times we were able to experience. We all have something in common, after standing out in the middle of the stadium and singing 'The Eyes of Texas.' That's a great experience we all share."

— Tommy Nobis, former Longhorns All-American LB and Maxwell Award and Outland Trophy winner

NFF College Football Hall of Famer Roosevelt Leaks

"One of the first things I do after the season is put the Lettermen's Golf Outing on my schedule. It is a great chance to catch up with all of my old Longhorn buddies and to get to know the guys on the current squad."

— Dan Neil, former Longhorns All-American and Outland Trophy finalist and a former starting guard for the Denver Broncos

"This event is everything that is special about being a Longhorn. You come back here and see players that you played with and players that you've seen play before and after your own time here. We talk about old stories and players that you haven't seen in years. We catch up with everybody and see what everyone is up to. "

Academic Support

The University of Texas was one of 32 football programs recognized by the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) in 2007 for graduating at least 70 percent of its student-athletes.

"I believed I would have a day when I was holding the Athletics Director's Honor Roll award in my hand and a day when I would have a ring with a number one on it. I'm still believing, and I'm going to keep believing, and I believe there are going to be more days like this."*

— Selvin Young, former UT running back and current Denver Bronco

Longhorns academic counselors visit regularly with every student-athlete to be certain they are making progress toward their degrees and to assist with any problems that may arise. The counselors provide assistance on such matters as registration, degree planning and compliance with University and NCAA policies and procedures.*

The Texas counselors also have an excellent relationship with University administration, faculty and deans. The counselors keep faculty aware of student-athletes' road trips, while the professors and deans prepare regular progress reports on each student-athlete throughout the year. Highly-qualified tutors in every academic field are available to all student-athletes.

Texas continues to stay at the forefront of providing the best academic facilities to its student-athletes. Already possessing one of the finest academic centers in the country inside of Moncrief-Neuhaus Athletics Complex, plans have already been drawn for construction of a new area approximately three times the size of the current one. It will feature writing, math and computer labs, numerous tutoring areas, a multi-media classroom and academic staff office space.

"They really stress our players being student-athletes. They allow you to miss practice for classes and study groups and other necessities for your education. In the progress I've seen over the past couple of years, it's encouraging to see most of our starters and key players achieve honors like at our recent academics awards banquet. It says a lot of our guys are competing with the top students that go to our school."

The Longhorns host an annual faculty visit, allowing players to invite faculty to tour the facilities, watch practice and have dinner with the team.

"The faculty members don't get to step inside their world and appreciate the amount of work they do. We in the stands enjoy the Saturday afternoon game and excitement of victory and the agony of defeat, but what we don't realize is the work they have in the trenches. They're here at 5:30 and 6 in the morning for weights, and then they go to class and then they come back for practice and then they have study hall. To get to step inside their world is an opportunity."

The student-athletes from UT and our students spend quality time together and develop personal relationships. The program ties them to higher education and shows them that college is a goal they can strive for."

— Floretta Andrews, Campbell Elem. Principal

"This is an incredibly meaningful day. It gives families an opportunity to have a special experience together at a time when parents who have very serious, life-threatening illnesses don't have the energy or even the financial resources to plan something like this themselves. To think that the Longhorn football team would think of them and realize that they're struggling right now and to provide this special time for them is incredibly meaningful. I think this is an evening that is creating memories that will last for a lifetime."

Derek Lokey, Frank Okam and Quan Cosby speak to hundreds of Austin-area middle school students at one of two stops on the day.

"It was a great experience. It is important that we give back when we can and I'm pretty sure I got more out of today than they did. You could tell that the cadets were really enjoying themselves and working hard."

— Derek Lokey, former UT and current Kansas City Chiefs DT

"The smiles might last an hour or it could be just a minute, but hopefully that moment will give [the kids] a chance to take a break from the trials in their lives."

– Quan Cosby, senior wide receiver

After presenting a game ball to General Jeffery Hammond, Commander of the 4th Infantry Division, the general returned the favor by presenting the Longhorns with the division's coin.

Derek Lokey speaks to members of the 163rd MI Battalion from Ft. Hood after practice.

"For the soldiers, it brings a lot of pride, because it's also a feeling of appreciation. The football players are donating their time to show appreciation for the things the soldiers have done for them. I hope the football players know how much the soldiers appreciate them, especially with a line this long for autographs."

— Captain Matthew Morey of the 4th Infantry Division

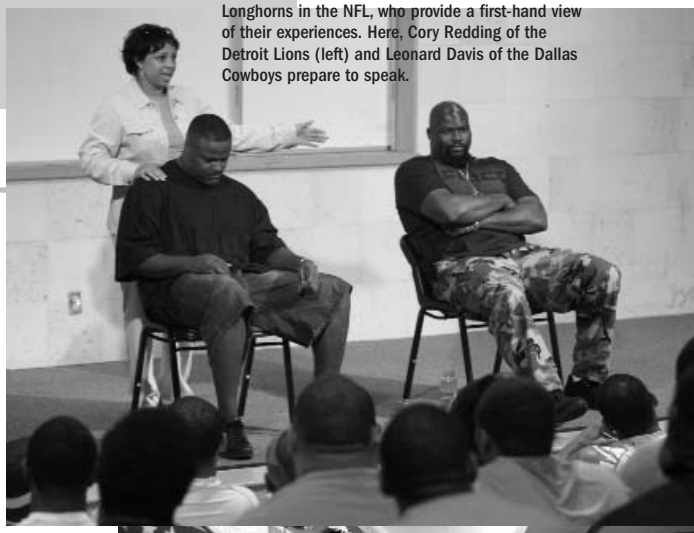
"Growing up,

I had seen my dad in Iraq. To see our guys that have never been around the Army, but they still show so much love to the soldiers, it makes me feel good to see guys like my dad are so appreciated and respected. It was really nice. The soldiers do a great job, and I appreciate all of them."

– Roy Miller, senior defensive tackle

Life Skills

Jean Bryant coordinates the Longhorn football Life Skills program.



Jean Bryant arranges frequent visits by former Longhorns in the NFL, who provide a first-hand view of their experiences. Here, Cory Redding of the Detroit Lions (left) and Leonard Davis of the Dallas Cowboys prepare to speak.

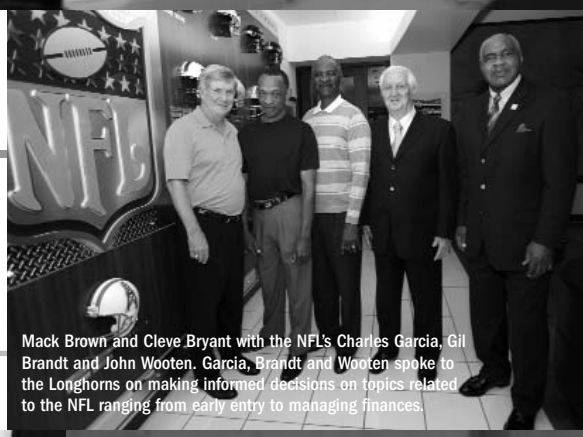
To prepare student-athletes for the challenges of life beyond the playing field, The University of Texas has been a leader in assisting the NCAA in the development of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Program.

The eighth-year national program is designed to provide student-athletes with the education and experiences to assist them in bridging the gap from college life to professional life. It also emphasizes making meaningful contributions to the community.

A program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs, the CHAMPS/Life Skills Program is in place to prepare student-athletes for "real life."

UT Men's Athletics Director DeLoss Dodds was a member of the initial committee that developed the program and continues to be one of its most ardent supporters.

In 2006, linebacker Drew Kelson took part in the CHAMPS/Life Skills NCAA Leadership Conference as one of 333 student-athletes from across the country.



Mack Brown and Cleve Bryant with the NFL's Charles Garcia, Gil Brandt and John Wooten. Garcia, Brandt and Wooten spoke to the Longhorns on making informed decisions on topics related to the NFL ranging from early entry to managing finances.

Actor Hill Harper, most notably of CSI: New York, was a featured speaker at UT athletics' "Conversations with Greatness," a minority mentorship symposium.

Vince Young has built relationships with companies such as Reebok, Dell and NetSpend since departing Texas.

Former NFL star Merton Hanks provided some valuable insight during a life skills seminar.

"I've followed Mack Brown for a number of years, and everywhere he's gone, he's done an excellent job with his athletes and rounding them into the very best people they can be. The university and Mack Brown and his staff need to be commended for not just focusing on their athletic pursuits, but making sure these young men are representative of the best of the The University of Texas."

— Merton Hanks, former NFL Pro Bowl safety who conducted a Life Skills seminar for the Longhorns

Vince Young was listed among Sports Illustrated's '2007 Fortunate 50,' for the top-earning athletes across all sports.

"I think the lessons I learned at UT have helped prepare me for things in life. That is something that Coach Brown always talked about. He told us to take advantage of all the things sports can teach you about growing up and developing as a person."

— Leonard Davis, UT All-American, Outland Trophy finalist and 2001 NFL first-round draft pick Quan Cosby and Rashad Bobino talk with Charles Garcia and John Wooten of the NFL.

UT players learn about dining etiquette at the annual Dining for Success presentation.

"It's amazing how much you learn; even really subtle things like how to hold a knife correctly or cut a steak properly, one piece at a time. These are points that apply in business and in life."

– Jared Norton, junior linebacker

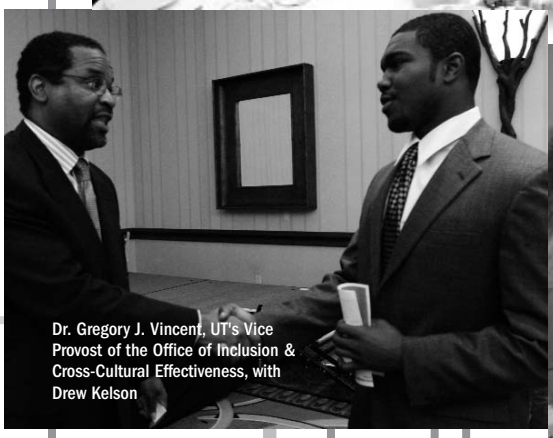
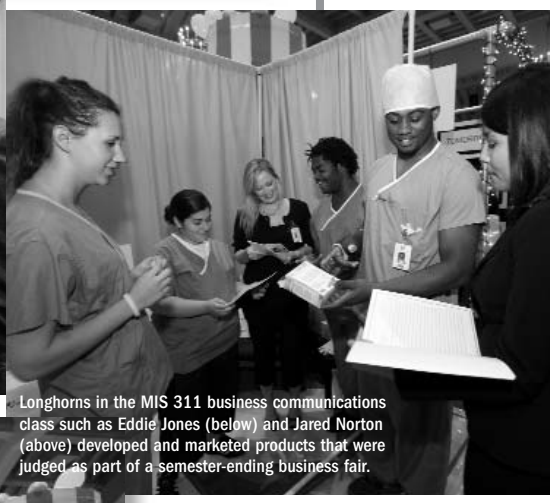
"One thing I can say after the symposium is I can do almost anything with my major of corporate communications. I knew this before but this event really brought out this aspect. A lot of these people within their jobs all realize they could use someone who has a major like mine, so that was pretty inspirational."

— Drew Kelson, former UT safety



Dr. Gregory J. Vincent, UT's Vice Provost of the Office of Inclusion & Cross-Cultural Effectiveness, with Drew Kelson



Longhorns in the MIS 311 business communications class such as Eddie Jones (below) and Jared Norton (above) developed and marketed products that were judged as part of a semester-ending business fair.

Cleve Bryant provides a broad view of what players can expect in life after college.

"All of the speakers and functions that I was involved in really helped me develop a better understanding of how to prepare myself and plan for the future. I can't tell you how many invaluable lessons I learned about life during my career at UT."

— Quentin Jammer, former Longhorns All-American and 2002 NFL first-round draft pick

"It's so great to be able to have all of the different speakers that we do here – from the community to the NFL to people that have inspiring stories. They all have valuable life experience they can pass on to us. It helps you mature by learning from that experience and also avoid mistakes they might have already made."

– Ryan Palmer, senior cornerback

Mack's Magic

"Mack has been a great coach for a long time. He is a great recruiter and he is a great X and O kind of guy, but as much as anything, I think he is a great person. I can see why families would trust him with their kids. He is just a great leader."

– Lovie Smith, Chicago Bears head coach

"Coach Brown always did a great job of putting players first. He always cared about us, and I really love him for that. Some coaches can just use hardness, but he's one of the coolest coaches. At the same time, he still knows when to put his foot down. But he always shows love and made us appreciate everything we have. So many people are in the world struggling and going through things we don't even know about until he reads us letter someone wrote. It brings a different perspective to life, period. I really love coach Brown for doing that."*

— Vince Young

"Coach Brown always talked to you about life. It wasn't just about football, so what that means to me is he cares more about the person before the athlete. If a player knows that, he's going to go the extra mile for him. I think that's why so many guys come to Texas and come back for their senior seasons. That's why I came back, because with Coach Brown, it's real love, and he's created a real family environment."

In 24 years

as a head coach, Mack Brown has coached 88 players who have been drafted by the NFL.

"Mack Brown is one of those guys that leaves a fantastic first impression. He's warm, he's outgoing, he's got a great personality, and he can connect with people. You don't have to be a $2 million contributor at The University of Texas to realize and recognize this guy's pretty special. He'll reach to all walks of life and all kinds of people."

– Dan McCarney
former Iowa State head coach

Mack Brown is surrounded by media after his 100th win at Texas. He is only the second UT coach to reach that mark with Darrell Royal.

"Brown is perfect for this place. He loves tradition like Martha Stewart loves flowers and he's done his best to hug the neck of every mama and daddy and child who's ever done the Hook 'em Horns sign."

— Charlotte Observer

of Mack Brown's players have been selected in the first round of the past 10 NFL drafts.

"When it comes to rallying a constituency, Mack Brown has few peers."

— Football News

Mack Brown made a cameo as a concerned parent in the pilot of NBC's 'Friday Night Lights.'

"You really do get the feeling here that coach brown cares about you as a person. He wants you to do well after you leave The University of Texas more than he wants to see you do something big here. To have a figure like that in your life is a special thing anywhere and I think it's a rare thing in college football. I think it's one of the big things that makes Texas a special place."

— Dallas Griffin, former UT academic All-American and 2007 Draddy Trophy winner

"As a parent, when my son is 18 years old and if he chooses to play football and somebody comes to the door to talk to him about molding him for the next four or five years, I want it to be a Coach Brown or a Coach Royal. I know that these parents, when they meet Coach Brown, don't have any question that their son is going to be guided, molded and led in a way that they'll be proud of."

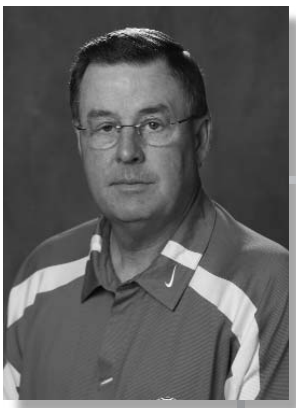
Exciting Offense

In 10 seasons under Greg Davis, the Texas offense has produced eight of the top nine passing seasons, nine of the top 11 total yardage campaigns and the top seven scoring years in school history, including an NCAA-record 652 points in 2005.



Four of the Longhorns' five offensive coaches have served as head coaches or coordinators during their careers. The group has amassed 144 years of coaching experience and has coached in 65 bowl games.

"They create a lot of problems. They've got a lot of good and exceptional players, and I think that some place in that offense, there's a spot to give every one of those players the ball. They make you defend every player on the field."

– Norm Parker, Iowa defensive coordinator

For more than a decade,

Greg Davis has been recognized as one of the most innovative offensive coordinators in college football. Entering his 11th year at Texas, Davis, who won the Broyles Award (nation's top assistant coach) in 2005, has guided a Longhorns offense that produced the school's only 3,000-yard passers (4), 2,000-yard rusher and 1,000-yard receivers (4). His explosive UT offenses have registered 135 school records, thirty-three 50-point games and four of the top six total offense games on school record. UT has also produced thirty-four 500-yard total offense performances (there are only 57 of them in the 115 years of Texas football) and has recorded eight of the school's eighteen 600-yard total offense games.

Did you know?

Texas' offense has produced an NFL first-round draft pick in six of the last 10 years. That group includes players from five different positions (QB, RB, WR, LT, RT).

"The Longhorns came to play tonight. They are fired up on both sides of the ball and executing flawlessly on offense."

— Kirk Herbstreit, ESPN Analyst during the 2007 Holiday Bowl

GREG DAVIS,
Offensive Coordinator/
Quarterbacks

"The thing that is great about Coach Davis' offense is that it is so versatile, and as a quarterback, it allows you to do a lot of different things. Coach Davis allows you to make the reads and adjustments and works with you in managing the game. If you have any aspirations of playing in the NFL or just improving every day as a player, his offense prepares you for that."

— Chris Simms, UT record-setting quarterback and current Tampa Bay Buccaneer

"Coach Davis spent a lot of time with me helping me understand the game. He helped make the game more fun than it already was. It became more fun knowing what you're doing out there. I love Coach Davis for that."

— Vince Young, Maxwell, O'Brien and Manning Awards winner

Did you know?

Texas has scored at least 25 points in 40 of its last 46 games and finished the 2007 season ranked in the Top 15 in both scoring offense and total offense.

"The pro-oriented offensive attack we have installed at Texas is a fast-paced and fun system which is exciting for any player who has ambitions of playing on Sundays. Our wide-open style has had the versatility to produce a number of all-conference tailbacks, quarterbacks, receivers and linemen in three of the nation's top conferences (Big 12, SEC and ACC) over the last several years. I would expect we would continue that success, not only in the Big 12, but also nationally."

— Greg Davis, Offensive Coordinator

Wide Receivers

"Coach Davis

does a great job of play calling, knowing my strengths and knowing the team's strengths. He's able to get a good mixture of running and passing and open up the whole offense."

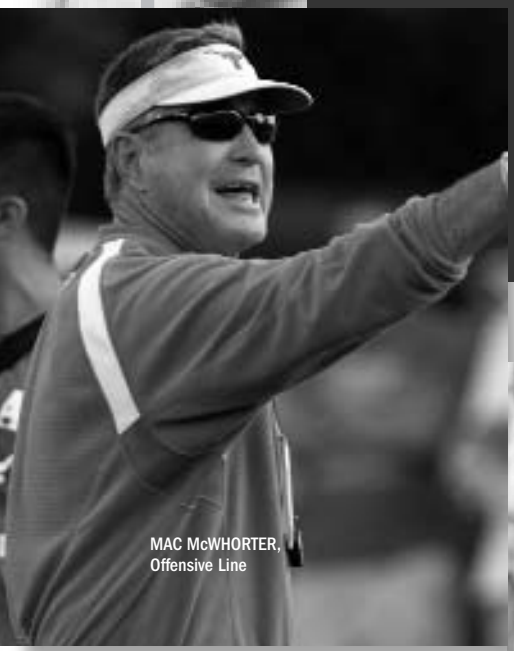
— Colt McCoy, junior quarterback

MAJOR APPLEWHITE,
Running Backs

"These are two historic offenses. You don't see numbers like this other than on video games."

— Pete Carroll, USC head coach on Texas and USC

In 1998, Texas became just the second school in NCAA history to feature a 2,000-yard rusher and passer as well as a 1,000-yard receiver.



MAC McWHORTER,
Offensive Line

Texas' offense

has produced two of the top seven rushers in NCAA history (Ricky Williams, 2nd, 6,279 yards; Cedric Benson, 7th, 5,540 yards).

Attacking Defense

Texas' defense

has finished in the Top Eight in rushing defense in back-to-back seasons after allowing just 93.4 ypg in 2007 (eighth NCAA) and just 61.2 ypg in 2006 (third NCAA). The 2006 season is the best performance on school record since 1942 (57.5 ypg). In the last two seasons, UT has held 10 teams to 27 yards or fewer, including three games in which the opponent rushed for negative yards.

"It's really intense,

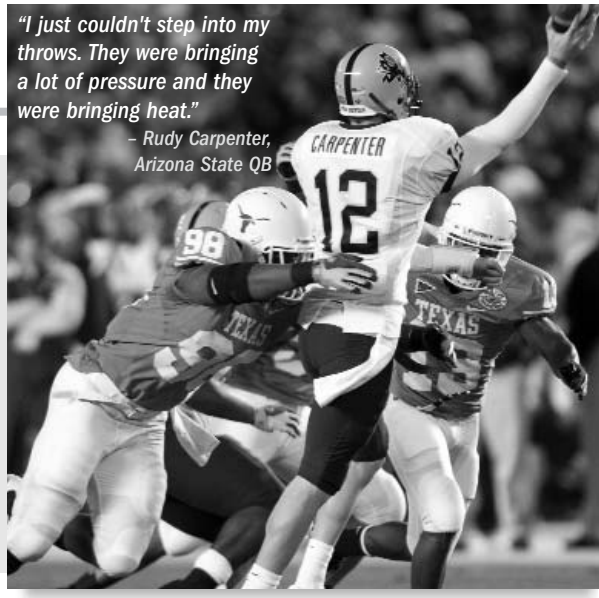
Coach Muschamp has brought an attitude where they're coming after you, they're going to hit you, they're going to strike you, and it makes us work that much harder."

— Junior QB Colt McCoy

In five years as a coordinator at Auburn and LSU Muschamp's defenses ranked in the nation's top 10 in total defense every year. His defense with the Miami Dolphins also ranked in the NFL's top 10.

Since Mack Brown

took over in 1998, the Texas defense has produced back-to-back Thorpe Award winners (nation's top defensive back), a Butkus Award winner (nation's top linebacker), a Nagurski Trophy winner (nation's top defensive player), three Lombardi Award finalists (nation's top lineman), two Bednarik Award finalists (nation's top defensive player), and one for the Hendricks Award (nation's top defensive end), Lott Trophy (nation's defensive impact player) and an additional finalst for the Thorpe Award.



"I just couldn't step into my throws. They were bringing a lot of pressure and they were bringing heat."

– Rudy Carpenter, Arizona State QB

"You do not know how fast they are until you step out on the field with them. Texas has a really good defense and it was a tough game for us. They made us struggle offensively the whole game."

– Jamario Thomas, North Texas senior running back and nation's leading rusher in 2004.

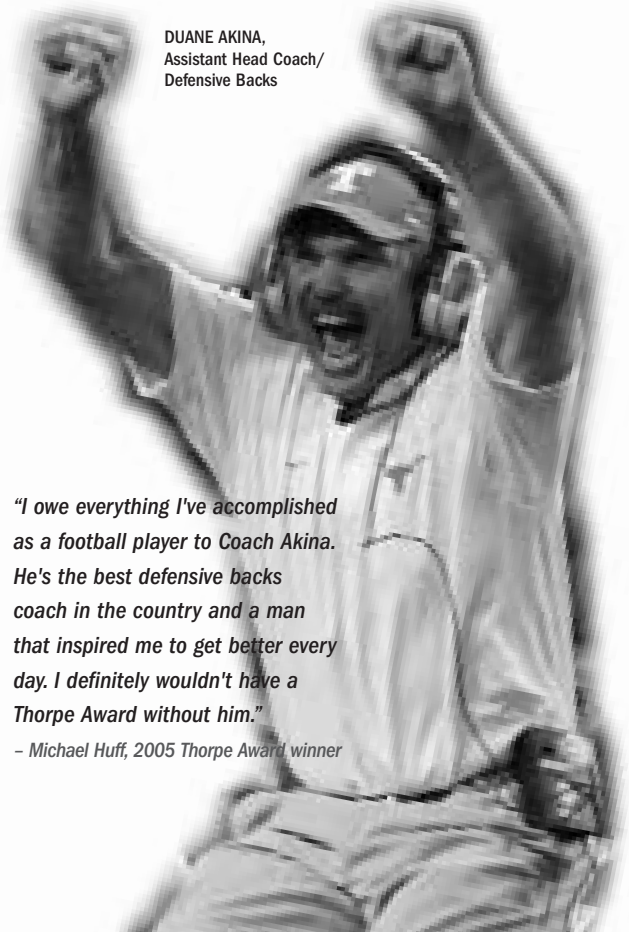
"All of our coaches are really cool, laid-back guys off the field. You can go and talk to them about anything. But, when we get out there, they get really fired up. They all get us excited during practice and make it a lot of fun."

— Rod Wright, former UT All-America defensive tackle and current Miami Dolphin



DUANE AKINA, Assistant Head Coach/ Defensive Backs

"I owe everything I've accomplished as a football player to Coach Akina. He's the best defensive backs coach in the country and a man that inspired me to get better every day. I definitely wouldn't have a Thorpe Award without him."

– Michael Huff, 2005 Thorpe Award winner

DID YOU KNOW?

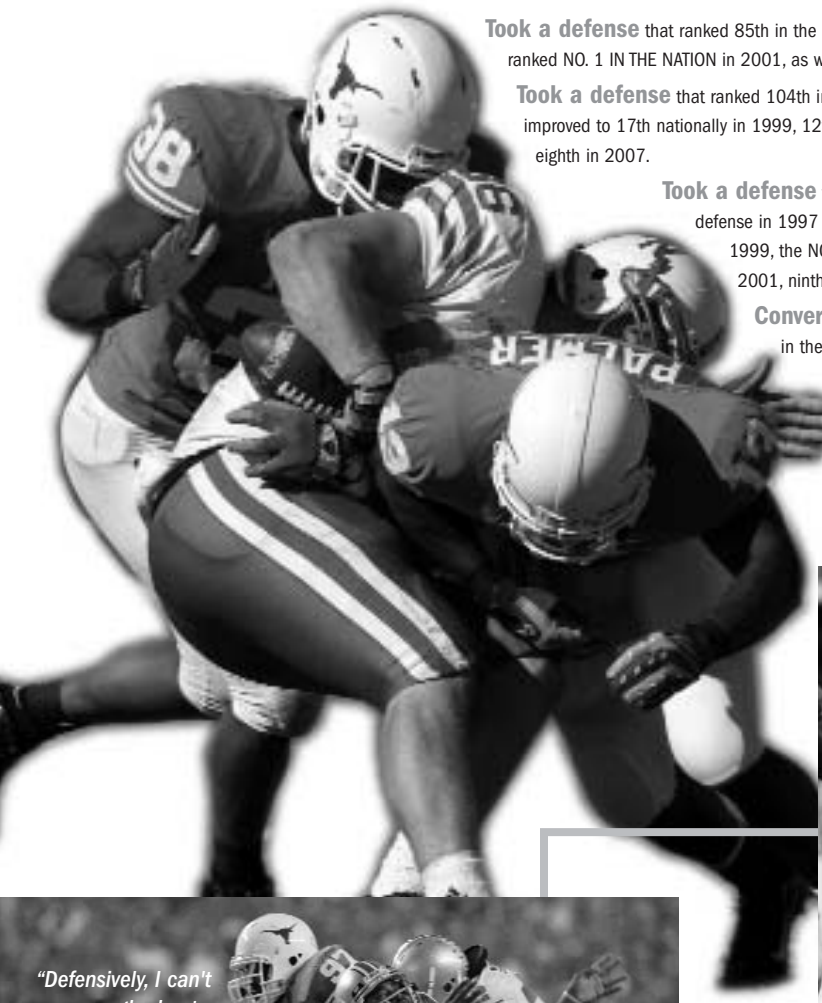
In the last 10 seasons, Mack Brown and his staff ...

Took a defense that ranked 85th in the nation in total defense in 1997 and turned it into one that ranked NO. 1 IN THE NATION in 2001, as well as seventh in 2000, sixth in 1999 and 10th in 2005.

Took a defense that ranked 104th in the nation in rushing defense in 1997 and improved to 17th nationally in 1999, 12th in 2000, sixth in 2001, third in 2006 and eighth in 2007.

Took a defense that ranked 75th in the nation in passing defense in 1997 and became the nation's 12th-best in 1999, the NCAA leader in 2000, fourth-best in 2001, ninth in 2003 and eighth in 2005.

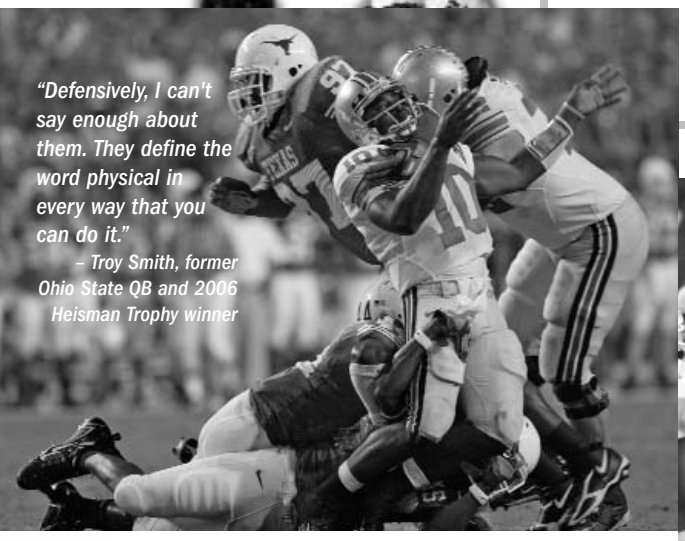
Converted a defense that ranked 96th in the nation in scoring defense in 1997 to the 11th-ranked group in 2000, third in the nation in 2001, eighth in 2004 and eighth in 2005.



MIKE TOLLESON,
Defensive Tackles/Special Teams Coordinator

"It's fun to play against a team like Texas that is always coming after you. When a team plays aggressive defense you are going to take some shots."

– Graham Harrell, Texas Tech QB

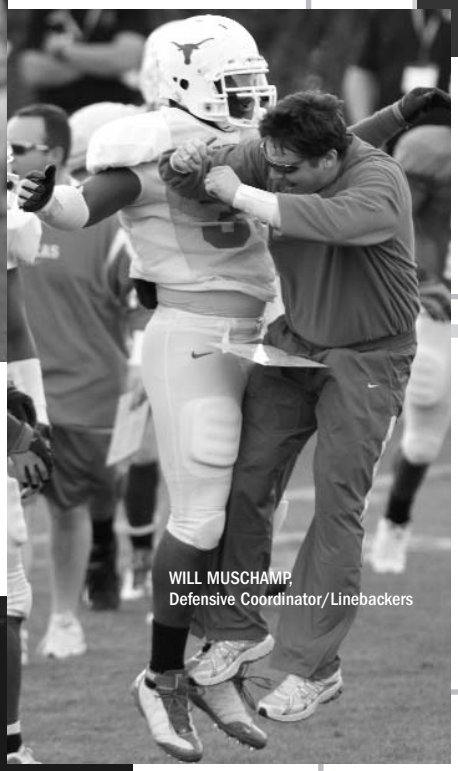


"Defensively, I can't say enough about them. They define the word physical in every way that you can do it."

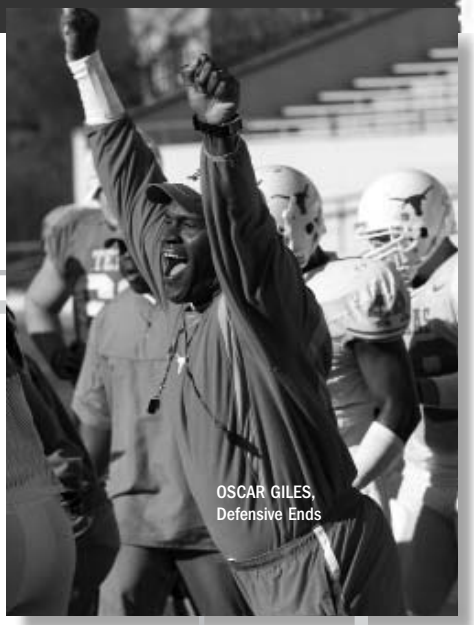
– Troy Smith, former Ohio State QB and 2006 Heisman Trophy winner

"Coach Muschamp is a phenomenal coach. He has a lot of knowledge for the game itself. I feel that he uses his knowledge and intensity for the game very well together, which makes his coaching style tremendous. I personally love his emotion for this physical sport, but also love his great personality off the field."

—Senior DE Brian Orakpo



WILL MUSCHAMP,
Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers



OSCAR GILES,
Defensive Ends

All totalled, Texas' defense has forced 288 turnovers during the Mack Brown era (128 games/2.3 per game), while only giving up 220 turnovers for a plus-68 turnover margin.

Texas' defense has produced an NFL first-round draft pick in six of the last eight years.

Explosive Power

At The University of Texas,

the emphasis of our strength and conditioning program is speed and explosive power. We help each athlete train the total body through explosive movements to reach an optimal athletic performance."

— Jeff "Mad Dog" Madden, Assistant AD for Strength & Conditioning

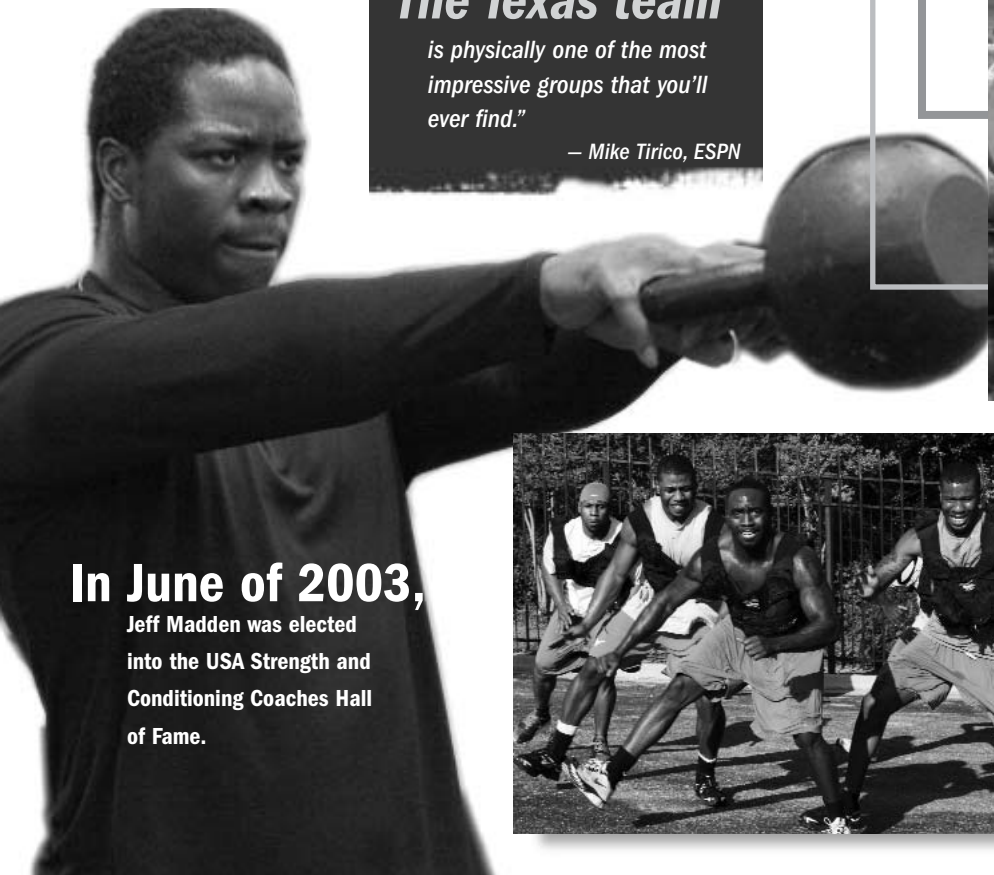
"I think Mad Dog is the best strength and conditioning coach in the country. He brings in guys, and for example, I came in at 210 lbs., now I'm 260. He puts on good weight and makes everybody stronger, bigger and faster."*

— Senior DE Brian Orakpo

Jeff Madden was named the 2004 National Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year.

"The Texas team is physically one of the most impressive groups that you'll ever find."*

— Mike Tirico, ESPN



In June of 2003, Jeff Madden was elected into the USA Strength and Conditioning Coaches Hall of Fame.

DID YOU KNOW?

The Dr. Nasser Al-Rashid Strength and Training Center is a whopping 20,000 square feet. The state-of-the-art facility includes:

- A three-lane, 70-yard astroturf running track
- A 35-by-45-foot astroturf plyometric training center
- A computer-based performance training center
- Video-based training systems and instructional facilities
- Brand-new customized weight training equipment
- A top-of-the-line sound system

"The thing I like about Mad Dog is that he fixes each workout to benefit each individual's needs. Every year, he has implemented new equipment and things that even make working out fun. He preaches explosiveness and unrelenting passion. He not only knows the physical training, but the psychology behind it. I'm so much stronger physically and mentally since my first year, and his staff is no doubt the best. They are so diverse and so experienced, you couldn't ask for more."

– Senior DT Roy Miller

Jeff Madden

was one of just 10 coaches nationally to receive the title of Master Strength and Conditioning Coach at the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Assocation (CSCC) convention in 2001. The honor represents what the association says "is the highest honor that can be achieved as a strength and conditioning coach and represents professionalism, knowledge, experience and expertise."

Explosive Power

"There is no one better than Coach Madden.

He is definitely a leader. He gets us going, he gets us right, he gets us in shape and conditioned. Being able to have him there and listen to him, he has put so many guys out into the NFL. He is getting us ready year after year."

— Colt McCoy, junior quarterback

"You're definitely going to get out of it what you put into it. If you follow Coach Madden's program, the sky's the limit. Whatever you want to accomplish, you will."

— Quan Cosby, senior wide receiver

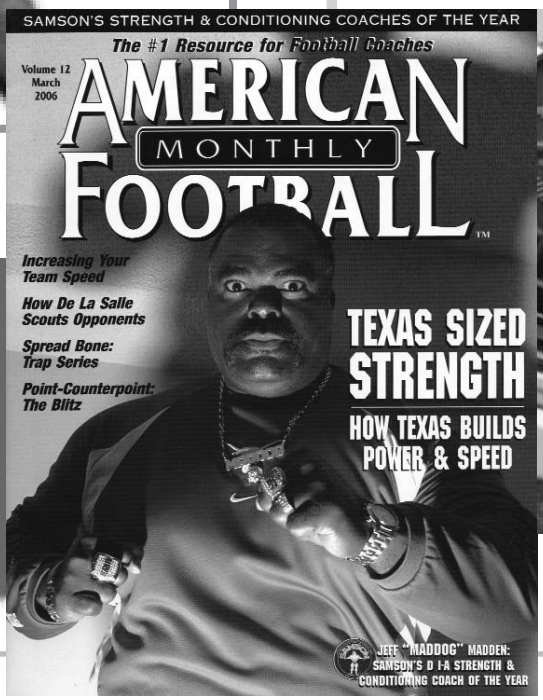
"We want our linemen to run like our linebackers. We want our linebackers to run like our DBs and our wide receivers. And we want our running backs, wide receivers, and DBs to run like the fastest men in the world."

— Jeff "Mad Dog" Madden



Jeff Madden was named the 2005 College Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year, by Samson Equipment in association with American Football Monthly.

"The Longhorns, upholders of a long and legendary football tradition, are explosive, fast and formidable."

— Brent Musburger, ESPN

Jeff "Mad Dog" Madden's

challenging strength and conditioning program has helped prepare more than 200 players for the NFL.

"Jeff has as much knowledge as any coach out there and works extremely hard to stay ahead of his field. Most importantly, he does a tremendous job relating strength, conditioning and flexibility to the football field. But, Jeff is not only the best strength and conditioning person in our business, he also is a terrific counselor of young men."

— Mack Brown

"Making it through coach Madden's training program has really pushed me to become the best player I can be. I've learned to overcome a lot of things, how to be mentally focused and push for that extra effort when I am tired."

— Jonathan Scott, former UT All-America tackle and current Detroit Lion

"One of the staff members has had an influence on my life. I might ask him to come up here. Mad Dog. My body is what it is today because of Mad Dog. I appreciate you. He told me once — he said, 'If you make it to Washington, I promise you, Mr. President-to-be, I'm coming up there with a team of champions.' And he did."

— President George W. Bush, during the White House ceremony following the 2005 National Championship

"I had a great foundation from all the great coaches and training staff at Texas like Mad Dog. It was a smooth transition. Some of the workouts were actually probably not as hard as Mad Dog's because we focused on different things, but being able to have that background made it easy to work.

Fantastic Facilities

Texas Longhorns
Moncrief-Neuhaus Athletics Complex

is a monument to Longhorns football pride. Honoring the greats in Texas football history and featuring every possible amenity in a spacious environment, the facility is considered by many to be the best in the country.

Trophy Room

The football complex features a trophy room to display the many honors in UT history, a display recognizing Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium's past, present and future, and a computer kiosk with on-demand access to everything you could imagine relating to Texas football history. Legendary Longhorns Darrell Royal and Earl Campbell have an office displaying the National Championship trophies in the facility. There also is a hallway featuring plaques honoring every UT All-American and Academic All-American.

Texas' practice facility, named for UT benefactor Frank Denius (opposite, with Mack Brown), features two full-size prescription athletic turf fields as well as an artificial turf indoor facility.

"The Bubble" at Denius Fields keeps excessive heat, freezing temperatures, rain, lightning or other hazardous weather conditions from halting or hindering Longhorns football preparation. Completed in 2002, this $4 million indoor practice multi-purpose facility is a 69,750-square-foot training center with a 55-foot high ceiling. The building is air-conditioned and houses a full-sized astro-turf practice field.

"The locker room is like a home away from home. When we are in there, it's just fun and family. We're a bunch of big brothers who like to goof around and hang out together until it is time to get down to business."

— Bo Scaife, former UT tight end and current Tennessee Titan

"I have heard so many good things about the program and with the success they have had, and it certainly is great to see it now and look at the facilities. There is a lot of great tradition here, you walk through the hallways and see these players. It's pretty impressive."

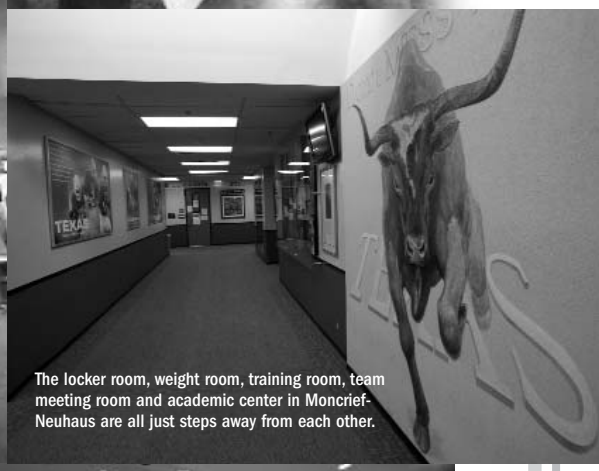
— Sean Payton, New Orleans Saints head coach

Frank Denius has been a longtime supporter of UT football and is one of the most decorated soldiers of World War II.

Texas' enormous locker room facility features 125 personalized eight-foot tall open lockers, a spacious team meeting area, five flat screen TVs and a three-dimensional, lighted 20-foot Longhorn on the ceiling.



The locker room, weight room, training room, team meeting room and academic center in Moncrief-Neuhaus are all just steps away from each other.

"Not only are they nice on the inside, but they also serve their functional purpose. We travel all over the country, and I would say these are some of the best anywhere."

— Kirk Herbstreit, ESPN analyst

The Longhorns' team meeting room was recently redesigned. New theater-style seating and carpeting are the most recent upgrades.

Fantastic Facilities

"Anytime I run into players from other teams around the country, they always ask about our facilities. Word gets out fast that everything at Texas is first class."
— Roy Williams, former UT All-America and current Detroit Lions WR

One of the largest facilities of its kind in the Southwest, The University of Texas' Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium is a standing legacy to the rich tradition of Longhorns football. Opened in 1924, Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium has undergone several facelifts to maintain itself as one of the finest football facilities in America. Despite its large capacity, Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium has been the site of standing room-only contests hundreds of times over the last 80 seasons, and on 57 occasions, has accomodated more than 81,000 fans. The support peaked in 2006 as the stadium's capacity grew to 85,123. Although there was a temporary drop in 2007 due to expansion construction, by 2008, it will hold almost 100,000 fans.

"When we see the stands going up, it lets us know that we're doing good. The fans like us, they're coming to see us, and we're being rewarded because a bigger stadium lets more fans in to see the games. It's really nice to see it go up."
— Senior DE Aaron Lewis

The 1999-2007 seasons

have been the best on record for Texas football attendance. All 53 home games attracted more than 80,000 fans. The top 10 on UT's all-time home attendance list have come in that era.

Daktronics designed and built the largest high-definition video display in collegiate sports for Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium.

The position meeting rooms in Moncrief-Neuhaus are newly decorated.

"The facilities at Texas are probably the best in America. It's quite amazing to see the facilities that are available to the players. I would say it is the preeminent facility in all of college football."

— Marty Schottenheimer, former San Diego Chargers head coach

LONGHORNS FOOTBALL

"The facilities at Texas are pretty special. It's very impressive when you go to each facility and see how committed Texas is to making everything the best. From the moment you step in the building, you can see Mack Brown is committed to providing his players with the best facilities in the nation."

— Tom Donahoe, former Buffalo Bills president/general manager

Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium is completing its expansion plans for the north end zone, which will feature an academic center, a war memorial plaza and 9,000 additional seats.

The coaching staff and Darrell Royal in a new north end zone suite.

"The fact that there is such an incredible facility makes (Pro Day) a lot easier. Most places that we have gone, the weight rooms aren't as big and they don't have the 40-yard dash inside the weight room. I haven't been everywhere, but I have been to several other big programs, but I haven't seen anything like this before."

— Todd McShay, ESPN draft analyst

The coaches offices have recently been redecorated.

Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium renovations in 2006 included a redesign of the Carpenter-Winkel Centennial Room, in addition to a completely remodeled press box, which were unveiled at the 2006 Fan Appreciation Day and Scrimmage.

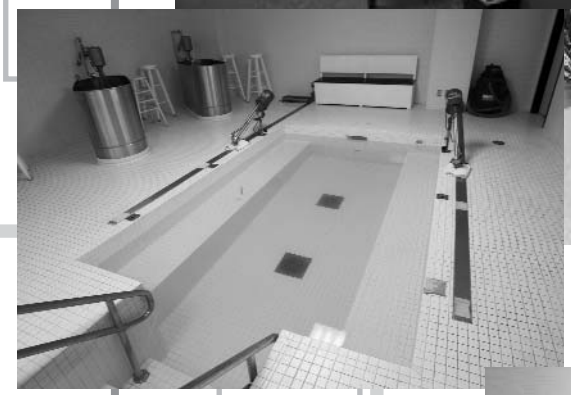
Fantastic Facilities

"The locker room

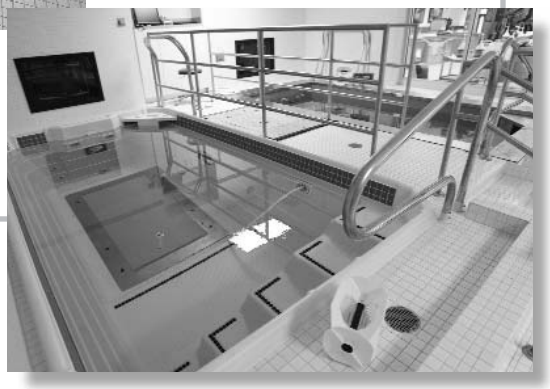
is great. It's a place the team comes together. From playing dominos to hanging out and watching the new flat screen TVs on the new couches, it's part of our home. Then you have everything you need just a few steps away with the weight room, academics center and training room. It's all there."

— Senior DE Brian Orakpo

The 20,000-square foot Dr. Nasser Al-Rashid Strength and Training Center (above) features customized training equipment, computer and video-based training systems, a 70-yard astroturf track and a top-of-the-line sound system. It's an ideal location for UT's Pro Timing Day, which can all be handled in one location.



Texas' 4,500-square foot training room combines the best rehabilitation and training facilities with on-site physician exam rooms.



The halls of Moncrief-Neuhaus Athletics Facility are newly decorated and now house the team's sealed historical honored lockers for national award winners and Hall of Fame head coach Darrell Royal. They also help accomodate Texas' large collection of trophies.

"I took visits to other schools and been to professional facilities, and this is as good as it gets. With Coach Brown, Cleve Bryant, George Wynn, and all of those involved, it's amazing. For everyone I know and bring to the facilities, it's jaw dropping."

— Quan Cosby, senior wide receiver

"The Big 12 Conference is all about hard-nosed football. It's the big boys going toe-to-toe in a heavyweight fight with everything on the line. If you are a competitive player who wants to be the best, the Big 12 is for you."

— Marcus Tubbs, former UT All-Big 12 and current Seattle Seahawks DT

Big-Time Competition

Big 12 teams have won or shared 18 national football championships in various wire service and coaches' polls since 1939. The conference led the nation in championships in the 1990's with a total of four and has claimed six of the last 16 national titles.

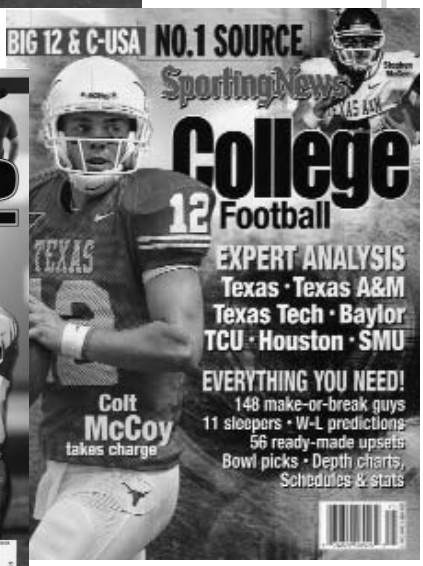
"Texas is truly where you come to measure yourself. The competition here is the best. From who you line up against in the regular season to bowls and especially practices, you'll play against the best every time you're on the field."

— Chris Hall, junior offensive lineman



Texas' recent non-conference schedule has matched the Longhorns against major opponents such as UCLA, Stanford, North Carolina, Arkansas and Ohio State. The Longhorns' four-game bowl winning streak has included Michigan, USC, Iowa and Arizona State.

The Big 12, which sent eight teams to bowl games in 2001, '02, '03, '05, '06 and '07, has an agreement to send a league representative to eight bowl games in 2008. In addition to an automatic berth in the Bowl Championship Series (which began prior to the 1998 season), the Big 12 also has agreements with the Valero Alamo Bowl, AT&T Cotton Bowl, Pacific Life Holiday Bowl, PetroSun Independence Bowl, Insight Bowl and Texas Bowl, in addition to partial agreements with the Konica Minolta Gator Bowl and Brut Sun Bowl.

"The Big 12 is one of the best conferences in the nation. There are always really good teams and really good coaching staffs. Every year, there are several Big 12 teams in bowl games, usually major bowls. There are great players throughout, and every year, it's virtually a toss up. That doesn't even mention our non-conference games and bowls. Just in the past couple of years - USC, Michigan, Ohio State, Iowa, Arkansas, and the list goes on."

2005 and 2006 Rose Bowl Champions

DID YOU KNOW?

- Texas is one of only nine schools that have won each of the four "original" New Year's Day bowl games (Cotton, Orange, Rose, Sugar). The Horns joined Alabama, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Miami, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Oklahoma and Penn State with their win over Michigan in the 2005 Rose Bowl.
- The national television broadcast of the 2006 Alamo Bowl between Texas and Iowa earned a 6.0 rating, making it the MOST-WATCHED college bowl game in ESPN history.
- The 2006 Alamo Bowl's 6.0 rating translates into 5,521,220 households and 8.83 million viewers, the most-watched bowl game in ESPN history.
- Bowl Games and success are synonymous when it comes to college football programs. The University of Texas has one of the proudest postseason traditions in the nation. Dating back to their first appearance in 1943, the Longhorns' 47 all-time bowl appearances are tied for the second-most in NCAA history and tops among Big 12 schools. Some of the greatest moments in Texas football history have capped off terrific seasons in bowl game victories.
- A week of fun and festivities with your Longhorn teammates at a bowl game is the reward for a successful season. Texas has played in 10 different bowl games at sites ranging from Miami, San Diego, Dallas, Phoenix, New Orleans, Pasadena and San Antonio.
- Texas' four consecutive bowl wins in the 2004 (Rose), 2005 (Rose), 2006 (Alamo) and 2007 (Holiday) seasons are a first in school history.

PACIFIC LIFE HOLIDAY BOWL

TEXAS 52, ARIZONA STATE 34

HORNS HAVE A BALL

Texas rides record-breaking first quarter to high-scoring rout of Arizona State

By Brent Schrotenboer
STAFF WRITER

After losing their previous game against archrival Texas A&M, the Texas Longhorns knew that their Holiday Bowl matchup with Arizona State would have practically been handmade up one's.

They shaped a number 5 a.m. practices in Austin. They held a mock game with the 2006 starting quarterbacks. They even hosted public confessions in front of the team whenever players made mistakes.

Sophomore quarterback Sam Bradford, Troy Nunes, got a chance to see if any of it worked.

A lot. Yes. They've were not. Texas coach Mack Brown said it was.

Texas scored a Holiday Bowl-record 21 first-quarter points and amassed a hundred yards of offense in the time it took the Sun Devils in the second quarter to win the 2006 Pacific Life Holiday Bowl last night against 12th-ranked Arizona State, 52-34.

The 17th-ranked Longhorns (10-2) overshadowed the bad bowl physically and grabbed the lead for good in the second long drive, where the coach down to the final nine minutes made the game appear closer than it was.

"Bowl trips

are a really special time for our team. With all of the activities, it really builds team chemistry, but more than that we really come together on the practice field. We're able to refocus toward our goals. Our last class of seniors left Texas with a perfect 4-0 record and that's something we want to continue."

— Senior CB Ryan Palmer

SeaWorld and the San Diego Zoo were highlights of the 2007 Holiday Bowl trip.

"It's exciting to be with a program that has the opportunity to go to a great bowl game every year. With all the hard work you put in before and during the season, you know that if you give your all, you are going to have a lot of fun at one of the top bowl games in the end."

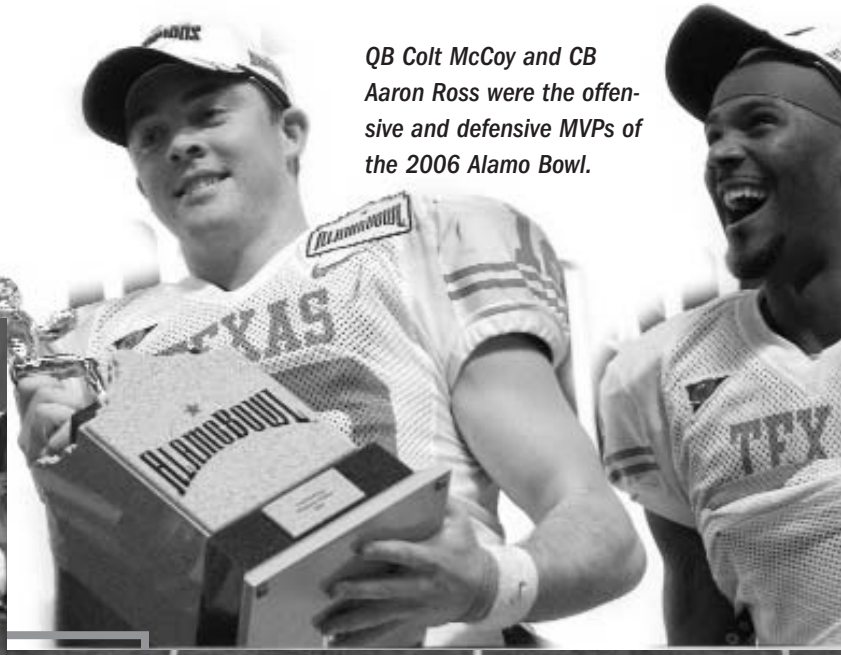
— Derrick Dockery, UT All-American and current Buffalo Bills guard



QB Colt McCoy and CB Aaron Ross were the offensive and defensive MVPs of the 2006 Alamo Bowl.

"Going to bowl games is awesome. You're with all of your teammates and coaches and your family is there. The bowl trips have allowed me to go to places I had never been before. Twice we got to go to Los Angeles. It was one of the best times I've ever had. There are so many different things to do on the trips and you get to do them with your teammates, which makes it really special."

— Kasey Studdard
former UT offensive guard and current Houston Texan

"I couldn't have asked for better bowl trips – twice to the Rose Bowl with a National Championship, and then playing in my hometown of San Antonio in the Alamo Bowl to finish. It doesn't get more special than that."

BIG-TIME RIVALRIES

AT&T Red River Rivalry

There is no rivalry in the nation quite like it. Dallas' Cotton Bowl is located an equal distance from both Austin and Norman, Okla. Fans, wearing their school colors proudly, arrive as early as Friday afternoon to take in the Texas State Fair, a fixture of Texas-OU weekend since 1929. Later, the faithful hit the streets of Dallas for an evening of revelry. On game day, the stadium looks as if the Texas-Oklahoma border runs right across the 50-yard line. In one direction is a sea of burnt orange and white, and the other, crimson and cream.

"The Texas/Oklahoma game is one of the biggest rivalries in college football history. It's great to be out there with all my teammates when you run in from the tunnel to that split crowd. This game always brings out a whole new level of intensity."

"To me, the most interesting and exciting thing about college football in the last few years is what has developed between Texas and Oklahoma. Having the rivalry at that sort of combustible level is just tremendous for the sport. There is something mythic and epic about the rivalry that spans the decades that makes it more than a Tennessee-Florida, for example. There's something timeless about it ... it is one of the most exciting things going on in the sport."

every kid growing up in the state of Texas dreams of playing in. It's friends against friends and classmates against classmates. I grew up with (Texas A&M QB) Stephen McGee, and there's always something special about that game."

— Senior WR Jordan Shipley

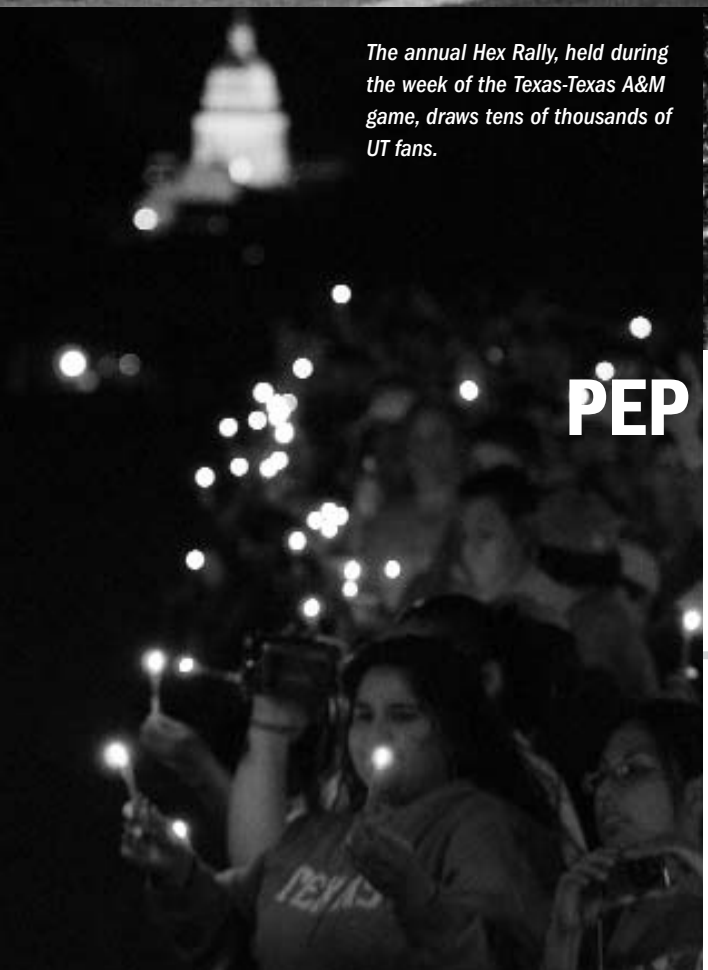
"The Lone Star Showdown is an amazing rivalry. The rivalry is everything between the fans and it's bragging rights for each university because we play in Texas. To be able to play against A&M and to have the Lone Star Showdown is a lot of fun."

— Colt McCoy, junior quarterback

"It is a big rivalry game.

A lot of the guys on their team played with our guys in high school. It's about bragging rights. We can't look at the past. We can't look at their record. We can't look at our record. The game is all about now."

— Aaron Ross, former UT All-American and current New York Giant

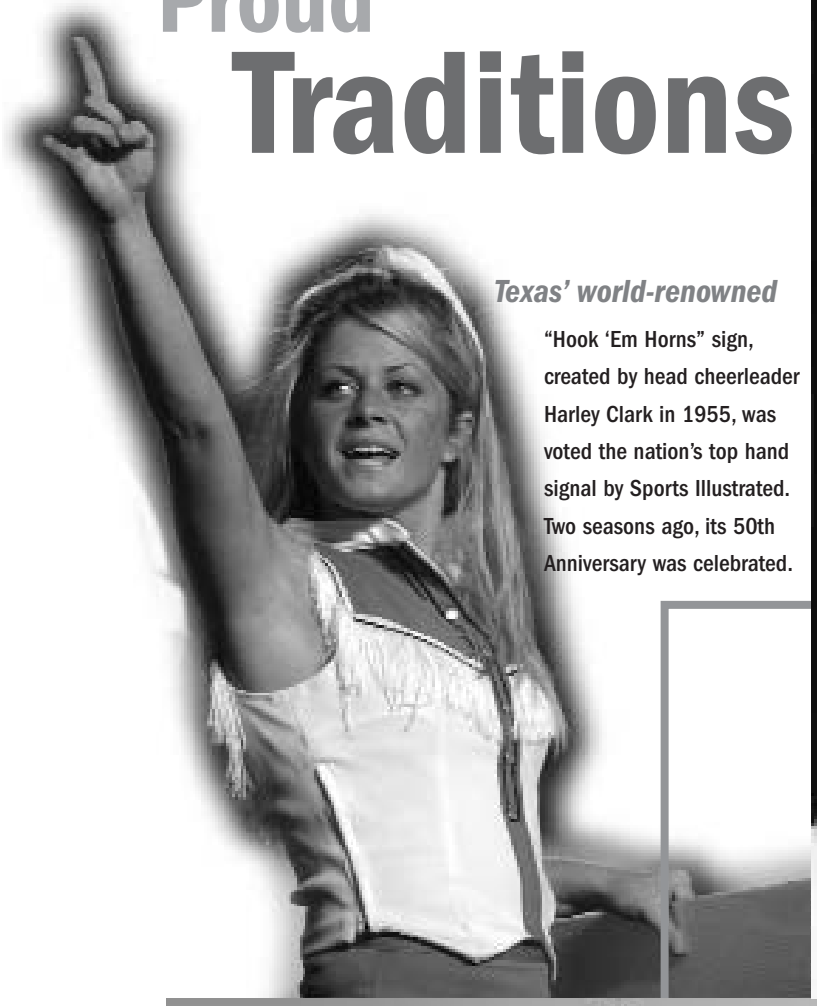


The annual Hex Rally, held during the week of the Texas-Texas A&M game, draws tens of thousands of UT fans.

PEP RALLY

The annual Hex Rally ritual was started by a palm reader, who was asked by students to place a curse on the Aggies and end a UT losing streak. The Longhorns won the game, and the rally became an annual tradition. Each year before the post-Thanksgiving game, thousands of Longhorn fans, led by enthusiastic spirit groups, light candles and converge on the steps of UT's Main Building to hex the Aggies once again.

Proud Traditions



Texas' world-renowned "Hook 'Em Horns" sign, created by head cheerleader Harley Clark in 1955, was voted the nation's top hand signal by Sports Illustrated. Two seasons ago, its 50th Anniversary was celebrated.

The 27-story Main Building, the UT Tower, is bathed in orange-colored lights to stand as a beacon to the Longhorns' success. The complete tower is orange with the number one displayed on each side when Texas claims a National Championship. On nights of a football victory or when a Big 12 team championship is won, the complete tower is orange.

In 2000, Ricky Williams (pictured with his mother, Sandy) joined Earl Campbell (right) as the only two Longhorns football players to have their numbers officially retired.

"I'm still burning orange."

The honorary T-Ring is awarded to every football letterman upon graduation.

A thunderous roar is heard from "Smokey the Cannon" after each Longhorns score at Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium. Two blank 10-gauge shotgun shells ignite the scoring celebration.

The Longhorn: A Tough Survivor

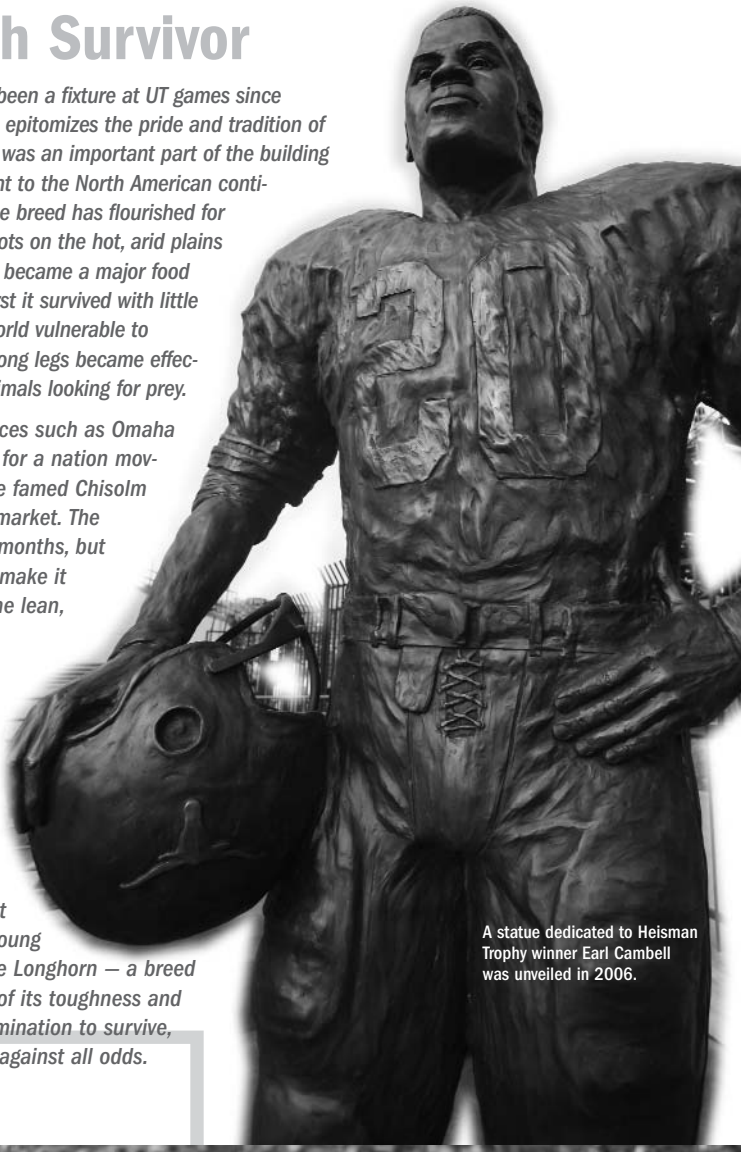
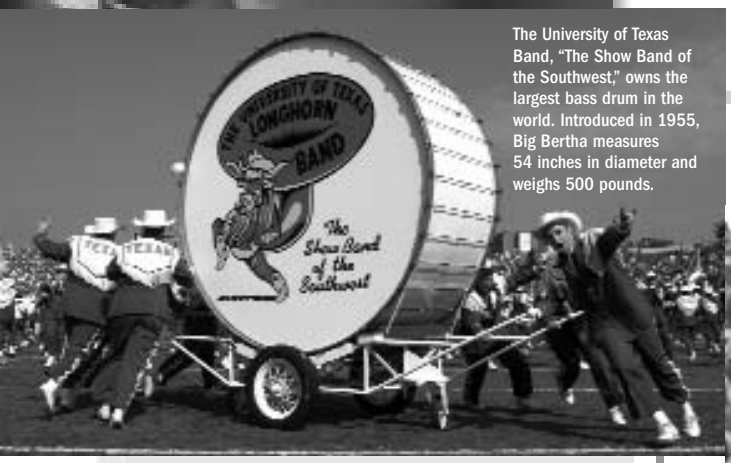
Bevo, a Texas Longhorn, has been a fixture at UT games since 1966. The Longhorns mascot epitomizes the pride and tradition of Texas Football. The Longhorn was an important part of the building of the American West. Brought to the North American continent by Spanish explorers, the breed has flourished for almost 500 years. With its roots on the hot, arid plains of South Texas, the Longhorn became a major food source for young America. First it survived with little grass and food to eat. In a world vulnerable to attack, its long horns and strong legs became effective weapons against wild animals looking for prey.

When the railroad made places such as Omaha and Kansas City chief stops for a nation moving west, cattlemen used the famed Chisolm Trail to drive their cattle to market. The 1,000-mile trek would take months, but while other breeds couldn't make it because of the long odds, the lean, mean Longhorn survived.

Independent, never tame, and always on guard, Longhorns grow to a ton or more, and the span of the great horns can reach six to nine feet. In the early 1900s, when The University of Texas was looking for a mascot, none fit better for the young college than the Longhorn — a breed apart because of its toughness and strength, determination to survive, and will to win against all odds.



A statue dedicated to Heisman Trophy winner Earl Cambell was unveiled in 2006.



The University of Texas Band, "The Show Band of the Southwest," owns the largest bass drum in the world. Introduced in 1955, Big Bertha measures 54 inches in diameter and weighs 500 pounds.

The Longhorns began wearing "Texas Orange" (burnt orange) in 1928.

GAMEDAY EXCITEMENT

Success on the gridiron is the biggest attraction in Austin, but the football game isn't the only tradition when it comes to The University of Texas and its weekly spectacle. A Texas football game is an event. Surrounded by the hoopla that most collegiate programs and athletes can only dream of, a Longhorns football game day is a memorable experience.

"You can't help but stand up and put up the Horns sign when they play 'The Eyes of Texas.' It takes you over. Whether you're in Orlando, Columbus, Detroit, Ann Arbor or wherever, you stand up and it gets into your heart and soul."
— Lee Corso, ESPN

"What you feel when you make the walk is the tradition of Texas Football. It's always touching us and around us. The chance to play football for Texas, you know you're representing tradition, a lot of great people. You have to give all you've got every time you take the field."
— Vince Young, former UT All-America QB and current Tennessee Titan

Four-Time National Champions

Along with winning four national crowns, the Longhorns have spent 43 weeks ranked as the No. 1 team in the nation.

Mack Brown and Darrell Royal share the rich tradition of Texas Football coaching.

The Game of the Century

No. 1 Texas held off No. 2 Arkansas (15-14) in the final regular season game of its 1969 National Championship campaign.

President Lyndon Johnson was on hand to congratulate UT quarterback James Street (#16) and head coach Darrell Royal following the No. 1 Longhorns' victory against No. 9 Notre Dame in the 1970 Cotton Bowl. The 21-17 victory secured UT's second National Championship.

"At The University of Texas, our primary goal is to win the National Championship. We strive toward that goal every day. We work toward accomplishing that honor with a team full of nice kids who are having fun, graduating and preparing for successful lives after football."
— Mack Brown

"I'm so proud of what Coach Brown has accomplished. He and his staff are doing an outstanding job. Things have to fall into place for any team to win a National Championship but Mack has UT in position to get there every year."

1963 National Champions

Following two seasons that saw Texas flirt with its first National Championship, the Longhorns opened the 1963 campaign as the No. 1 team in the nation according to Sports Illustrated and Street & Smith's Football Yearbook. The Associated Press did not agree and forced UT to work its way up the ladder with a preseason No. 5 ranking.

After a pair of decisive season-opening wins at Tulane (21-0) and against Texas Tech (49-7), UT rapidly climbed into The AP Poll's No. 2 spot. Texas held that position after a 34-7 win against Oklahoma State and that set the stage for a battle for the nation's top spot in the annual rivalry with No. 1 Oklahoma, in Dallas.

A convincing 28-7 win against the Sooners rocketed the Longhorns to No. 1 and they maintained their ranking through the remainder of the regular season. It wasn't all easy though. In their first week at No. 1, UT nearly blew a 17-0 halftime lead in a 17-13 win at Arkansas and got another scare in a 7-0 win against Baylor later on in Austin. In the biggest play of the season, Duke Carlisle made a sensational leaping interception of what looked like a sure last-minute, game-tying Baylor touchdown pass. With 29 seconds remaining in the game and Baylor at UT's 19-yard line, Bears quarterback Don Trull was looking at his favorite target, Lawrence Elkins, who was running a post pattern. Elkins had eluded UT's Joe Dixon and looked to be wide open as he approached the goal line before Carlisle, who had covered nearly 15 yards since the ball left Trull's hand, made the miraculous play.

"Thank you, Duke. You saved my life," Dixon said to Carlisle after the game-saving catch.

The Longhorns avoided another upset attempt in a 15-13 victory at Texas A&M, scoring the winning touchdown on a Carlisle 1-yard plunge with 1:19 remaining in the game. UT entered the fourth quarter trailing 13-3 before putting the finishing touches on the victory.

Since there was no Associated Press postseason poll, Texas went into its Cotton Bowl matchup against No. 2 Navy with The AP national title already secured, but the Football Writers Association and the Helms Foundation withheld naming a National Champion until after the game. The Midshipmen were expected to provide quite a test behind the multi-talented skills of junior quarterback Roger Staubach, who had claimed the Heisman Trophy during the season.

The national TV pregame introductions produced a surprise and a challenge. When he was introduced, Midshipmen head coach Wayne Hardin said pointedly, "When the challenger meets the champion and the challenger wins, then there's a new champion." This seemed to raise Darrell Royal's hackles and he replied grimly, "We're ready."

Texas jumped out to a quick 21-0 halftime lead, and behind standout defenders Tommy Nobis and Scott Appleton, frustrated the scrambling Staubach. In the meantime, the Longhorns flourished behind a memorable performance by Carlisle, who was voted the outstanding back of the game. He connected with Phil Harris on 58-yard and 63-yard scoring tosses while rolling up 213 passing yards and 267 total yards on the day. UT secured a consensus National Championship with a decisive 28-6 win.

"I've never seen a team which deserved to be No. 1 more than Texas," Hardin said after the game. "Texas was just the best we've played, that's all. Staubach didn't play as well as usual, but I imagine Texas had a lot to do with that."

Appleton earned consensus All-America and All-Southwest Conference honors, running back Tommy Ford rushed for 738 yards and earned All-America and All-SWC recognition, Nobis was a consensus All-SWC pick and the American Football Coaches Association tabbed Royal its Coach of the Year. Appleton, Ford and center David McWilliams served as captains for the Longhorns, who finished with a perfect 11-0 record and 7-0 mark in SWC play.

1969 National Champions

The 1969 season marked the 100th year of college football and ABC television executive Beano Cook arranged for Texas and Arkansas to play the final game of the regular season, moving their usual October date to the first weekend in December.

For a long while, it looked as though the game would be a meeting of also-rans. Ohio State was dominating the Big Ten and the chances of the game being anything other than just the last game of the season were pretty remote.

However, as the Longhorns took a Saturday off to prepare for their upcoming game on Thanksgiving Day with Texas A&M, Michigan and its upstart coach Bo Schembechler upset the Buckeyes. Texas vaulted to No. 1 in the polls and Arkansas claimed the No. 2 spot.

That set the stage. Even the day took on an eerie feeling. The night before, a steady, cold rain fell in Fayetteville and an icy fog hovered over the stadium as the crowd awaited the arrival of President Richard Nixon, who would award a plaque symbolic of the National Championship to the winner.

In the 100th year of college football, it truly was the "Game of the Century." The Longhorns overcame turnovers and a 14-0 Arkansas lead to post a 15-14 victory. James Street scrambled for one touchdown, got a two-point conversion and then hit Randy Peschel on a dramatic 4th-and-3 play late in the game. Donnie Wigginton, the third-string quarterback who was the holder, made a big save on a high snap and Happy Feller booted the extra point for the winning score with 3:58 remaining. Tom Campbell's interception on UT's 21-yard line halted Arkansas' final drive.

Less than a week later, when safety Fred Steinmark underwent surgery for the removal of his leg because of bone cancer, UCLA administrators watching the Longhorns play basketball in Los Angeles actually wept.

The Cotton Bowl prompted a great deal of interest with No. 1 Texas hosting No. 9 Notre Dame. The Fighting Irish were making their first bowl appearance since the "Four Horsemen" beat Stanford 27-10 in the 1925 Rose Bowl. Ara Parseghian's 8-1-1 squad was ending its 44-year self-imposed departure from bowls.

Again, it took some dramatics for a Texas win. UT trailed 17-14 midway through the final period before Street directed the Horns 76 yards for the winning score. Billy Dale's 1-yard run capped the drive and gave UT a 21-17 lead and the 500th win in school history.

In the locker room after the 21-17 victory, Royal gave Steinmark the game ball. The little safety would become a national symbol of courage as he battled cancer for a year-and-a-half before dying in June 1971.

An ABC-TV poll of sportswriters tabbed Royal Coach of the Decade after wrapping up the 1960s with a pair of national titles. Tackle Bob McKay earned consensus All-America and All-Southwest Conference honors, while linebacker Glen Halsell, wide receiver Cotton Speyrer, running back Steve Worster and offensive tackle Bob Wuensch each earned All-America and All-SWC recognition. Street, tackle Leo Brooks and defensive end Bill Atessis each earned consensus All-SWC honors. Halsell, Ted Koy and Street served as captains for the 11-0 (7-0, SWC Champions) Longhorns.

1970 National Champions

Texas entered the 1970 season with a 20-game winning streak on the line and as the defending National Champions. With all of their startling credentials, the Longhorns entered the season ranked No. 2 behind Ohio State in the polls.

Despite a rash of preseason injuries, UT stormed into the year with a pair of decisive victories against California (56-15) and at Texas Tech (35-13).

The win over the Golden Bears propelled the Longhorns into the No. 1 spot in the UPI poll and narrowed their gap on Ohio State for the top spot in The AP poll. Despite the easy win against Tech, the Horns dropped back to No. 2 in the UPI poll, with Ohio State claiming a unanimous No. 1, again.

With UT's winning streak standing at 22 games, it appeared that the string of success with the unstoppable "Wishbone" had finally run out. In the season's third week, No. 13 UCLA conceived a unique defense which stymied the Longhorns. The Bruins appeared ready to end the streak with a 17-13 lead, 25 seconds remaining and Texas 45 yards away from the end zone. It was then that UT quarterback Eddie Phillips hit Cotton Speyrer in stride at the 25-yard line. Speyrer shook a UCLA defender and crossed the goal line with only 12 seconds left as UT came away with a 20-17 victory.

After the come-from-behind home victory against UCLA, the Longhorns posted back-to-back victories against Oklahoma (41-9) and at Rice (45-21). Those wins vaulted the Longhorns ahead of Ohio State into the nation's top spot.

A 42-15 win against SMU helped the Longhorns maintain the top spot. In its second week at No. 1, UT was forced to hold off a stubborn Baylor team in Waco (21-14) to remain at No. 1.

The Longhorns continued to hold the top spot with decisive victories at TCU (58-0) and against arch-rival Texas A&M (52-14) to set up a battle with No. 4 Arkansas. For the second consecutive year, the meeting with the Razorbacks would decide the Southwest Conference crown.

After claiming their third consecutive SWC crown with a 42-7 win against Arkansas, the Longhorns were awarded the UPI National Championship.

UT entered its Cotton Bowl rematch with No. 6 Notre Dame as the nation's top team in both The AP and UPI polls.

After falling 24-11 to the Fighting Irish, which snapped UT's 30-game winning streak, the Longhorns dropped to No. 3 in The AP poll but remained UPI's National Champion. The 30-game winning streak currently stands as the 12th-longest in NCAA history.

Defensive end Bill Atessis, fullback Steve Worster and offensive tackle Bobby Wuensch earned consensus All-America and All-SWC honors, while linebacker Scott Henderson and Speyrer earned All-America and All-SWC recognition. Running back Jim Bertelsen and offensive guard Bobby Mitchell also earned All-SWC accolades. Henderson, Worster, Wuensch and Zapalac were the captains for the 10-1 (7-0, SWC Champion) Longhorns.

2005 National Champions

Following an 11-1 campaign in 2004 that culminated in the Longhorns' first BCS win over Michigan in their first Rose Bowl, Texas entered the 2005 season ranked No. 2 behind defending champion USC. The ranking was UT's highest in the preseason since 1970, its last championship season.

The Longhorns opened with a 60-3 win over Louisiana-Lafayette as QB Vince Young accounted for four TDs and freshman RB Jamaal Charles made the top freshman rushing debut in UT history with 135 yards.

The win set up a historic first meeting with No. 4 Ohio State. Trailing 22-16, Young connected with WR Limas Sweed on 24-yard TD with 2:17 remaining. The defense held firm, forcing a safety for the 25-22 final to give UT its second-straight win over a Big Ten power.

A 51-10 win over Rice at home, in which Charles racked up 189 rushing yards and three TDs, sent Texas into its bye week and then conference play, where it opened at Missouri. Young produced his first 100-yard passing/rushing game of the season with 236 passing and 108 rushing in the 51-20 victory.

The Red River Rivalry arrived with much being made of Oklahoma's five-game winning streak in the series. However, 2005 would produce a stark contrast, as Texas rolled to a 45-12 win, highlighted by an 80-yard TD run by Charles for a 14-6 lead. The Longhorns never looked back, capping the win with a 67-yard fumble return TD by DT Rod Wright.

Next was No. 24 Colorado, and Young would have one of his finest days passing. He broke his own school record for completion percentage by connecting on 25-of-29 (86.2%) attempts for a career-high 336 yards and two TDs, while also reaching the end zone three times on the ground for a 42-17 win.

That set the stage for undefeated No. 10 Texas Tech. WR Billy Pittman collected his third 100-yard game with a career-high 138 yards and two TDs, while the defense held the nation's top-ranked scoring offense to 17 points for a 52-17 win.

The Longhorns then traveled to Oklahoma State, a team that in 2004 held a 35-7 lead before Texas made the greatest comeback in school history with 49 unanswered points. Again, the Cowboys jumped out, this time 28-9, and again UT responded. This time with 38-unanswered points. Young became the first player in NCAA history to rush for over 250 yards and pass for over 230 in the same game for a UT record 506 yards of total offense.

Texas closed the regular season with wins over Baylor, Kansas and Texas A&M for its first undefeated regular season since 1983, while clinching a spot in the Big 12 Championship, where it would meet Colorado again. The final score was set midway through the third quarter at 70-3, giving Mack Brown his first Big 12 title and sending the Longhorns to the BCS National Championship to face No. 1 USC.

The two teams played a game for the ages. Young took the spotlight from Heisman Trophy winners Reggie Bush and Matt Leinart, becoming the first player in NCAA history to pass and rush for more than 200 yards twice in a career. He recorded 267 yards passing and 200 yards rushing with three TDs, topped by his fourth-down, eight-yard TD run with 19 seconds to go for the 41-38 win.

Young won the Maxwell Award, the O'Brien Award and the Manning Award, and was consensus first-team All-America. Safety Michael Huff became UT's first winner of the Thorpe Award and was unanimous first-team All-America, along with OT Jonathan Scott. Wright also was named consensus first-team All-America.

Conference Crowns

Prior to Big 12 competition, Texas was part of the Southwest Conference (1915-1995).

Texas claimed the final Southwest Conference title in 1995 and the first-ever Big 12 Conference Championship in 1996. It also won the Big 12 title in 2005.

Undefeated

Texas has finished the conference season with an undefeated record 17 times.

"There's nothing like the showdown for the conference title in the championship game. It's two teams on a neutral field battling for the ring. It's a great experience, and the added bonus is if you are playing for the Big 12 title, you probably are playing for the National Championship as well."

— Cory Redding, UT All-American and current Detroit Lions defensive end

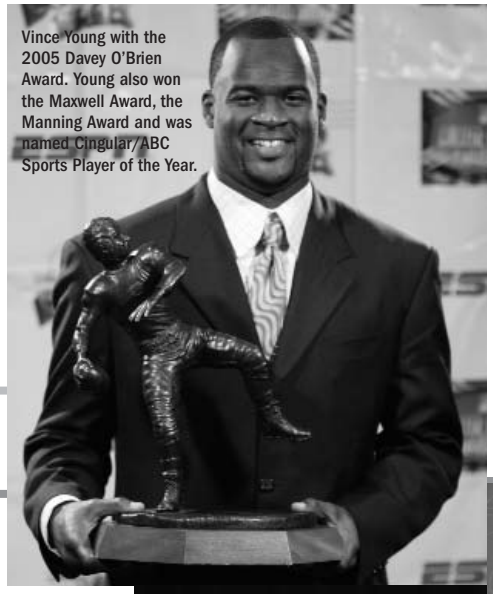
Vince Young (above) and Jamaal Charles (right) helped guide the Longhorns to the 2005 Big 12 Championship with a 70-3 win over Colorado.

(Left) Johnny Treadwell (60) and Pat Culpepper (31) forced an Arkansas fumble at the goal-line as the Longhorns posted a 7-3 win en route to the 1962 SWC Championship.

National Honors

Mack Brown Era

Since Mack Brown took over the Longhorns program in 1998, Texas has featured 20 first-team All-Americans as well as a winner or finalist for the Heisman Trophy, Maxwell Award, Butkus Award, Davey O'Brien Award, Doak Walker Award, Cingular/ABC Sports Player of the Year, Walter Camp Player of the Year, Lombardi Award, Manning Award, Outland Trophy, Thorpe Award, Hendricks Award, Nagurski Trophy, Bednarik Award, Lott Trophy and Draddy Trophy.



Vince Young with the 2005 Davey O'Brien Award. Young also won the Maxwell Award, the Manning Award and was named Cingular/ABC Sports Player of the Year.

Earl Campbell took the nation by storm en route to claiming the 1977 Heisman Trophy.

Colt McCoy was named National Freshman of the Year by the Touchdown Club of Columbus in 2006.

In 2006, Justin Blalock became Texas' third finalist for the Lombardi Award in the last four years.

ALL-TIME GREATS

Ricky Williams and Tommy Nobis were named to the Walter Camp Football Foundation All-Century team.

Trophy Time

Texas is the only NCAA school to feature a winner of the Outland Trophy (3), Doak Walker Award (3), Maxwell Award (3), Heisman Trophy (2), Lombardi Trophy (2), Jim Thorpe Award (2), Davey O'Brien Award, Nagurski Trophy, Butkus Award, the Manning Award AND the Walter Camp Player of the Year.

In 2007, Dallas Griffin was honored with the Draddy Trophy, also known as the 'academic Heisman.'

"Dallas Griffin represents everything that is good about college football. We are extremely proud to honor him and the rest of the Draddy Finalists, revering them as the finest examples of football's power to build great leaders."

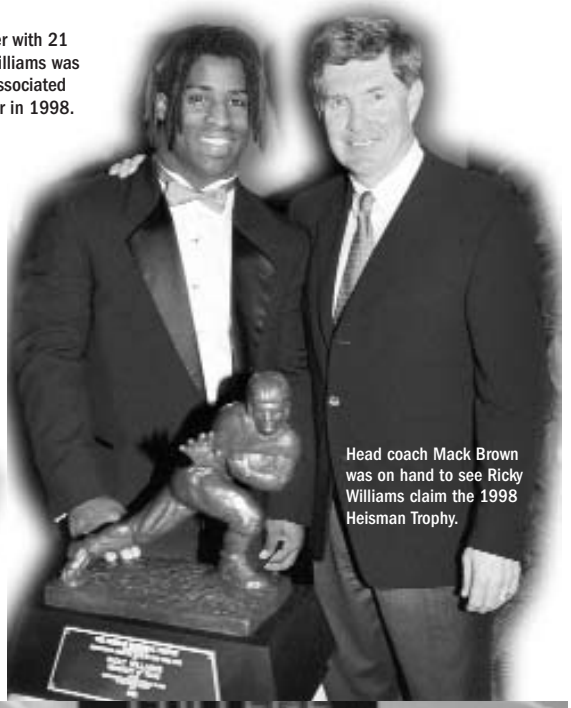
– Steven J. Hatchell, NFF President & CEO

After capping his career with 21 NCAA records, Ricky Williams was tabbed the first-ever Associated Press Player of the Year in 1998.



Head coach Mack Brown was on hand to see Ricky Williams claim the 1998 Heisman Trophy.

Mack Brown was named the winner of the 2005 Bryant Award as national coach of the year.

"Winning the Thorpe Award was a great honor and a tremendous experience. Going to Orlando and being presented with the trophy on ESPN was really special, then my family was with me in Oklahoma City at the Thorpe Award banquet and that was even better. It was such a great few days, being around all of the former winners, Jim Thorpe's family and the people that run the award. Everyone treated us great and it's definitely a memory I'll cherish forever."

— Michael Huff, 2005 Thorpe Award winner

"I just feel so blessed to have won the Thorpe Award. I'm overwhelmed. It's such a great honor that is named after the greatest athlete of all time and has been won by so many great players. I can't begin to say how humbling it is to join such a prestigious group."

National Honors

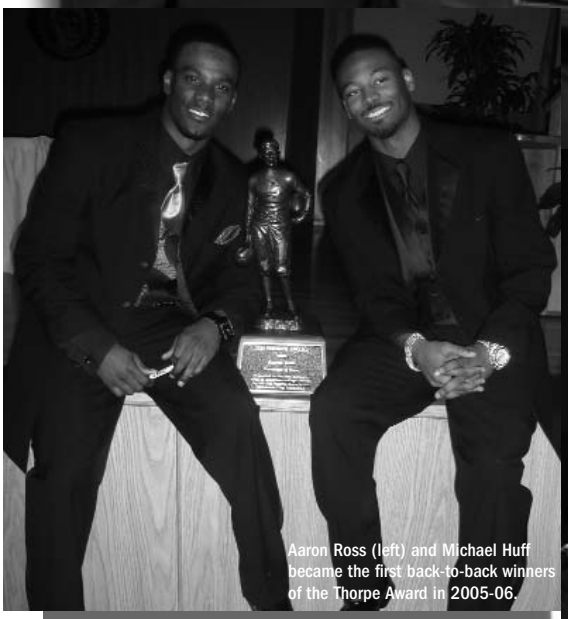
"To win the Maxwell Award, as the all-around player of the year, that's a special award I was blessed with, knowing that there were some great players up for that honor. It's a tribute to all of my teammates and the coaches, and it's just a blessing to be here. I'm really enjoying it."

— Vince Young,
2005 Maxwell Award, Davey O'Brien Award and Manning Award winner and Cingular/ABC Sports Player of the Year

Asst. Coach Bruce Chambers was on hand when Cedric Benson was presented with the Doak Walker Award in the spring of 2005.

Senior DE Brian Orakpo was selected to the 2008 preseason Playboy All-America team.



Aaron Ross (left) and Michael Huff became the first back-to-back winners of the Thorpe Award in 2005-06.

Vince Young with Kansas City Chiefs President Carl Peterson and ESPN analyst and former NFL quarterback Ron Jaworski at the Maxwell Award ceremony.

"I'm honored to be a Playboy All-American and just proud to represent The University of Texas. It's such a tradition for the Longhorns to be represented at this, and it makes me proud that I can to do that."

— Brian Orakpo,
senior defensive end and 2008 Playboy All-American

"Winning the Doak Walker Award was a rewarding tribute to all of the hard work that I've put in during my career and is definitely something all of my teammates deserve just as much credit for. They have cleared the way for any success I've had and came together to help us have a great season."

— Cedric Benson,
2004 Doak Walker Award winner

LONGHORNS FOOTBALL

"Being a player at The University of Texas gives you the opportunity to be seen by everyone and to have a chance, if you work hard, to achieve a lot of great things. If you take care of business, you'll have a chance to be a part of a lot of fun and exciting events and have an opportunity to compete for a lot of national honors."

— Derrick Johnson, 2004 Butkus and Nagurski winner

Texas football won two ESPY Awards in 2006, including Best Game and Best Championship Performance. At left, Vince Young receives his Championship Performance award from Janet Jackson.

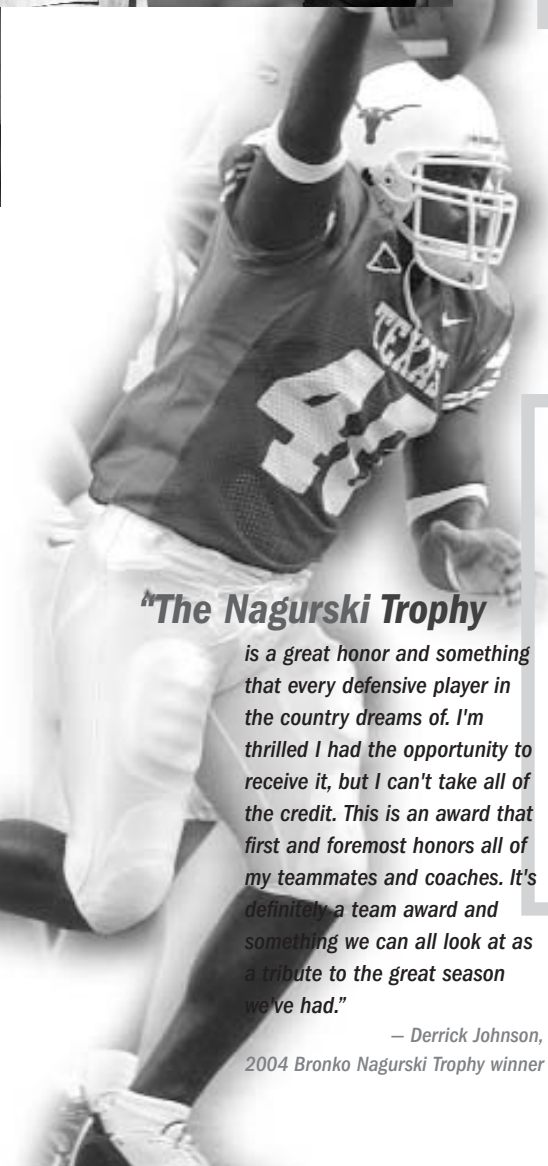
Darrell Royal received the Contributions to College Football Award at the 2002 ESPN College Football Awards.



"The Nagurski Trophy is a great honor and something that every defensive player in the country dreams of. I'm thrilled I had the opportunity to receive it, but I can't take all of the credit. This is an award that first and foremost honors all of my teammates and coaches. It's definitely a team award and something we can all look at as a tribute to the great season we've had."

— Derrick Johnson, 2004 Bronko Nagurski Trophy winner

Ricky Williams is the only two-time Doak Walker Award winner.

Justin Blalock (middle) with Regis Philbin at the Cingular/ABC All-America Team show.

Aaron Ross with ESPN's John Anderson at the Walter Camp Football Foundation weekend.

Vince Young, Roy Williams and Casey Hampton represented Texas in the 2007 Pro Bowl.

"Mack and his staff do an excellent job advising their players what their (draft) value is and what options they have when it comes to professional football. The minute a player steps on campus, they take a special interest in them."

— Gil Brandt, former Director of Player Personnel for the Dallas Cowboys

First-round pick: DT Marcus Tubbs (2004)

"My time at UT definitely helped prepare me for the NFL. A lot of the plays, terminology of the offense and blocking schemes are based on what they do in the league. If you hope to take that step to professional football, the offense at Texas will help prepare you for that."

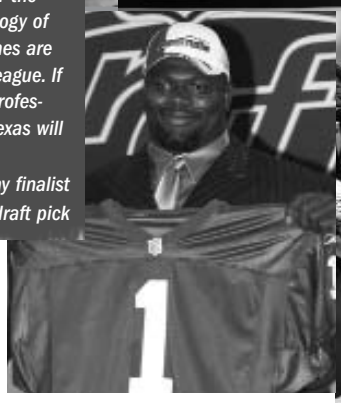
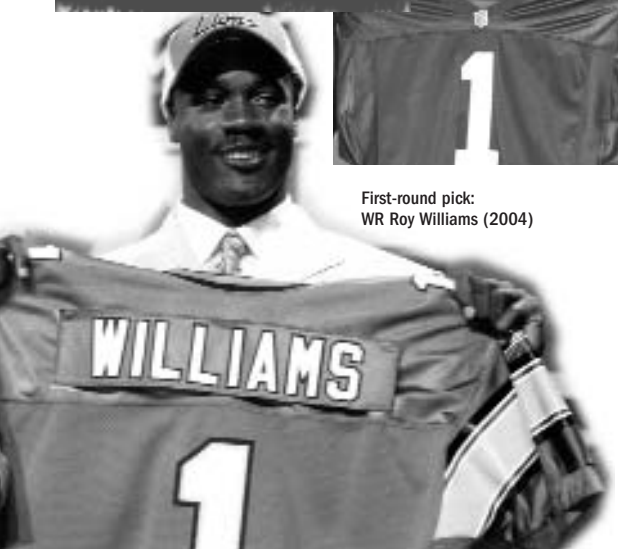
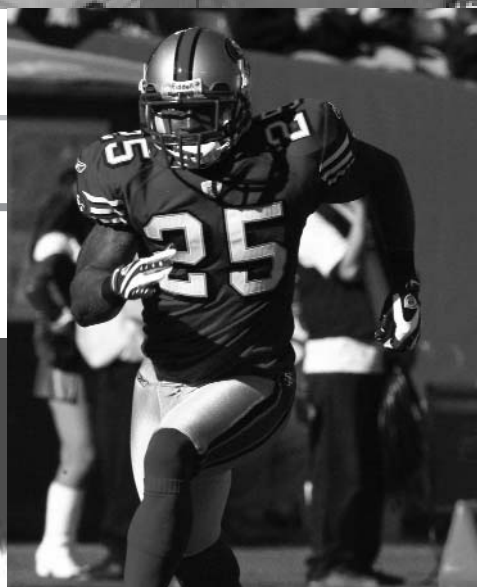
— Leonard Davis, Outland Trophy finalist and 2001 NFL first-round draft pick



Second-round pick:
OL Justin Blalock (2007)



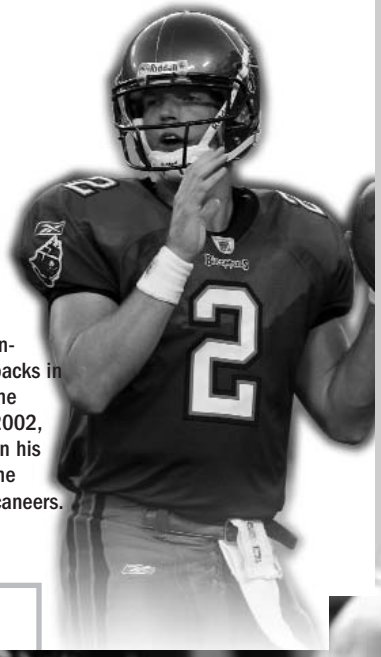
First-round pick:
WR Roy Williams (2004)



Tarell Brown was chosen in the fifth round of the 2007 draft by the San Francisco 49ers.

First-round pick: CB Quentin Jammer (2002)

In the 2002 NFL Draft, Quentin Jammer and Mike Williams became the first Longhorns duo to be selected among the top five picks.



After finishing his career as one of the winningest quarterbacks in UT history and the team's MVP in 2002, Chris Simms is in his sixth year with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

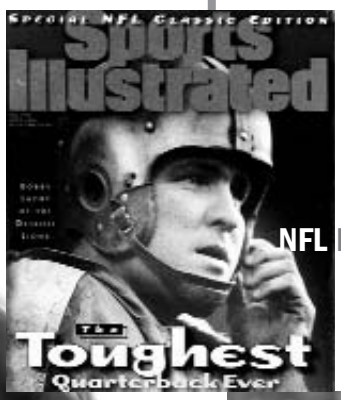
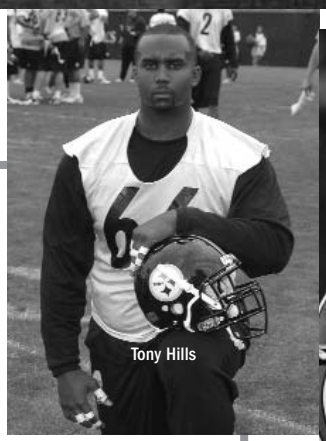
NFL Longhorns

Twenty-three Texas players have been selected among the top 10 picks of the NFL Draft.

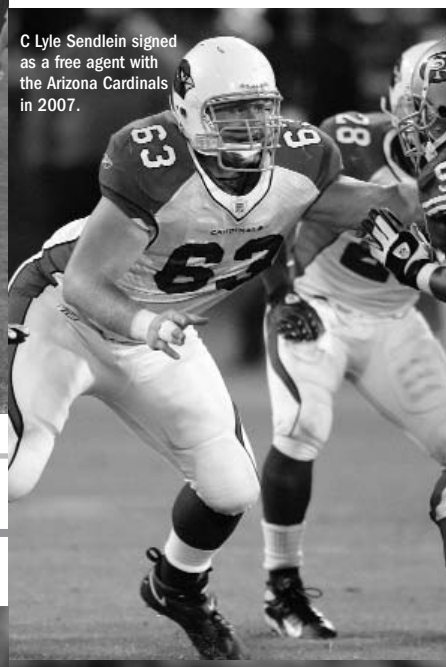
Selvin Young signed as a free agent with the Denver Broncos in 2007 and became a starter and the team's leading rusher.



NFL Hall of Famer and former Longhorn Bobby Layne was tabbed the toughest quarterback ever in a Sports Illustrated poll.



Tony Hills



C Lyle Sendlein signed as a free agent with the Arizona Cardinals in 2007.

A first-team All-America lineman at UT, Derrick Dockery played four seasons with the Washington Redskins and signed as a free agent with the Buffalo Bills in 2007.

A first-team All-Big 12 linebacker at UT, D.D. Lewis is now in his seventh season in the NFL.

UNDRAFTED TO UNTOUCHABLE

By MEGAN MANFULL
HOUSTON CHRONICLE

Broncos running back Selvin Young wants to be reminded of what a "normal" winter looks like. He's had enough of the white stuff covering the ground in Denver. He's ready to see something green again.

Young, 24, will get his chance when he returns to his hometown for the Texans-Broncos matchup on Thursday night at Reliant Stadium.

The former Texas Longhorn left Houston in May as an undrafted free agent. He returns as one of the best rookie running backs in the league.

"The game, I feel like it's come to me a lot faster than I was expecting," said Young, who rushed for a season-high 186 yards on 27 carries against Kansas City on Sunday. "I was expecting for it to be extremely rough, just expecting the worst, but understanding in my head that I was going to fight through it, regardless, but just that fight and being ready for whatever and expecting the worst has kind of brought the best out of me."

Injuries to Travis Henry have increased Young's opportunities this season, even helping earn the rookie five starts.

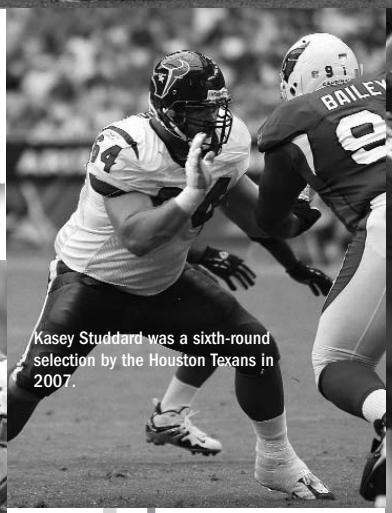
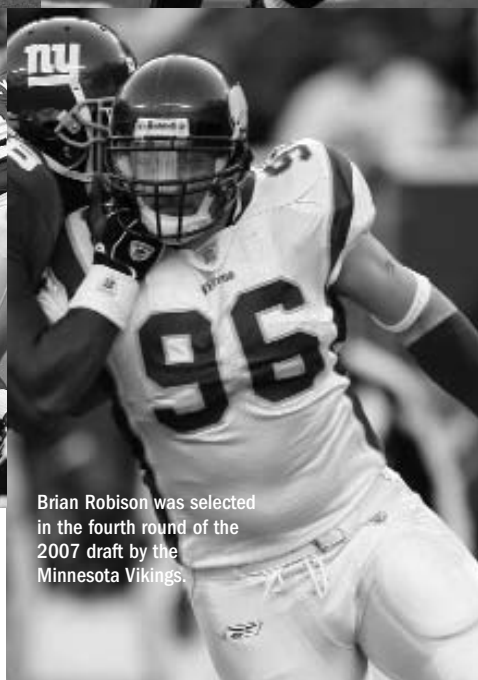
Jonathan Scott was selected in the fifth round of the 2006 draft by the Detroit Lions.

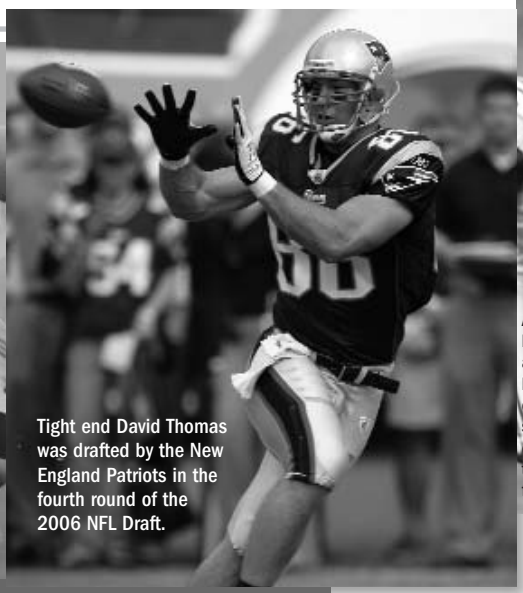


Kasey Studdard was a sixth-round selection by the Houston Texans in 2007.

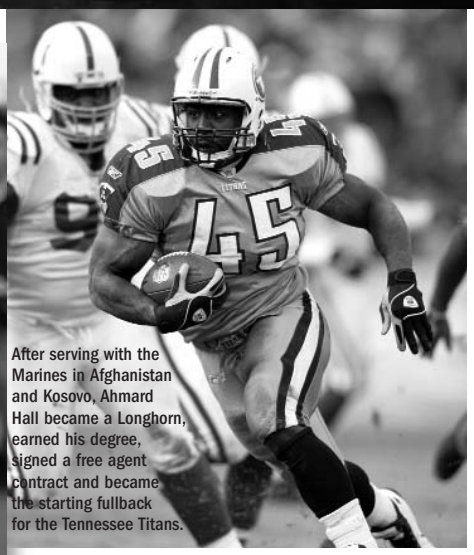


Brian Robison was selected in the fourth round of the 2007 draft by the Minnesota Vikings.

Tight end Jermichael Finley was drafted in the third round by the Green Bay Packers in 2008.



Tight end David Thomas was drafted by the New England Patriots in the fourth round of the 2006 NFL Draft.

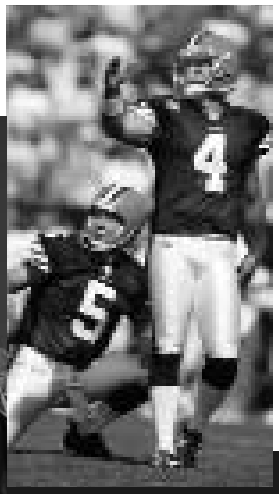


After serving with the Marines in Afghanistan and Kosovo, Ahmard Hall became a Longhorn, earned his degree, signed a free agent contract and became the starting fullback for the Tennessee Titans.

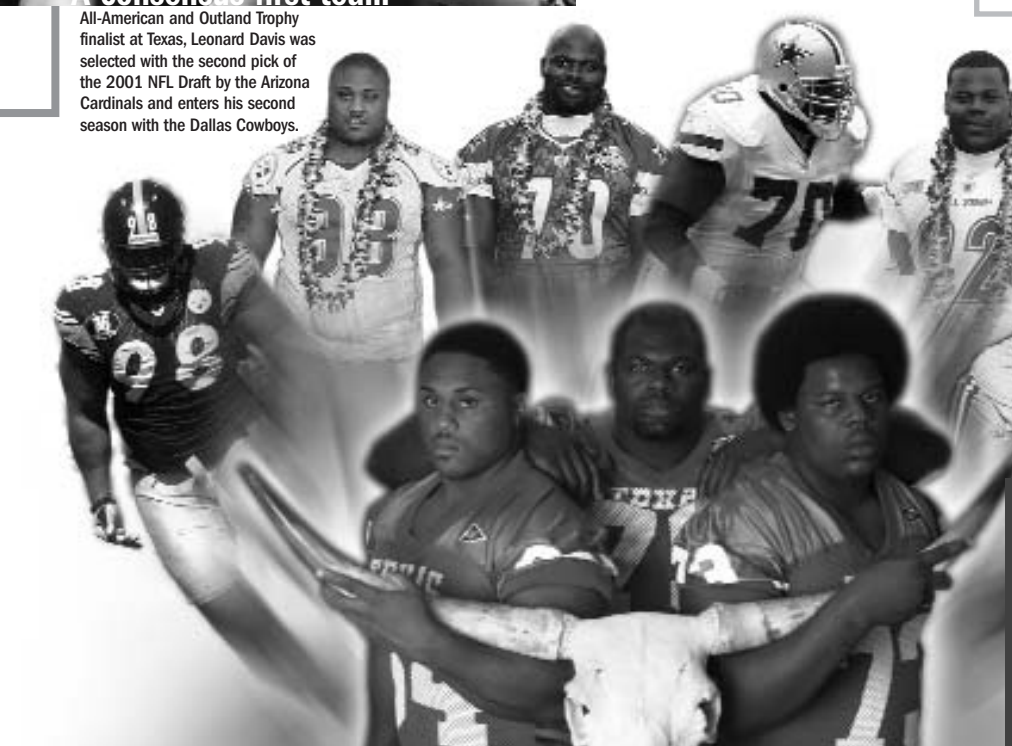
A consensus first-team All-American and Outland Trophy finalist at Texas, Leonard Davis was selected with the second pick of the 2001 NFL Draft by the Arizona Cardinals and enters his second season with the Dallas Cowboys.

Richmond McGee signed as a free agent with the Philadelphia Eagles in 2008.

First Round Pick: Michael Griffin



An All-America kicker who finished his career as the Longhorns' all-time leading kick scorer (339 points), Phil Dawson is in his 10th year as the Cleveland Browns' place-kicker.



The trio of Casey Hampton, Leonard Davis and Shaun Rogers went from Longhorns to draft picks to professionals to Pro Bowlers together.

When Casey Hampton, Leonard Davis and Shaun Rogers (l-r) were all selected in the first two rounds of the 2001 NFL Draft, it marked the first time since 1984 that Texas had three players chosen among the first two rounds. That happened again in 2006 with Vince Young, Michael Huff and Cedric Griffin and increased to four in 2007 with Michael Griffin, Aaron Ross, Justin Blalock and Tim Crowder.

Earl Campbell, Texas' first Heisman Trophy winner in 1977, led the NFL in rushing four times and was enshrined in the NFL Hall of Fame in 1991.

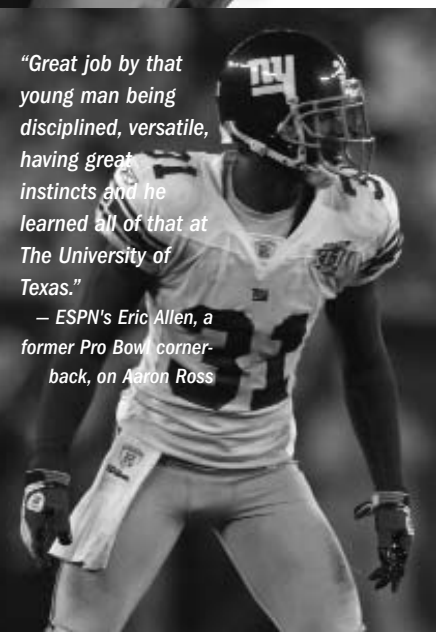
— EA Sports

Seven Longhorns have participated in the last three Super Bowls and six have been chosen to the last three Pro Bowls.



"Great job by that young man being disciplined, versatile, having great instincts and he learned all of that at The University of Texas."

CEDRIC GOLDEN

For Ross, life adds another sweet ring

Super Bowl victory sparkling addition to ex-Horn's treasure

Twenty-five-year-old Aaron Ross wasn't around for the "golden age" of television. So he probably hasn't heard of that old TV show that invited old friends to reunite with an unsuspecting guest of honor. The show has long since been canceled, but that wasn't prevent us from having some fun in the here and now.

Since Ross' growing collection of champ-ionship hardware (a Super Bowl champion's ring, an NCAA championship ring, a Rose Bowl winner's ring and the Thorpe Award) compares favorably to just about any football player to come through here, we thought it would be a good idea to bring back an old classic:

Aaron Ross, welcome to:

This is your life!

Host: Our first guest is one of the most dy-namic quarterbacks ever to wear the burnt orange. This 2006 NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year has the guiles to shake his own shadow and more confidence than a young Cassius Clay sparring against a blind man.

Tim Crowder was selected in the second round of the 2007 draft by the Denver Broncos.

Pro Prospects

"It's always amazing to see our pro day. There are always hundreds of scouts on hand. It makes you realize that if you perform well at UT, you'll get your chance to play in the NFL."

— Derrick Johnson, Longhorn All-American and 2005 first-round draft pick representatives, ranging from owners, presidents, vice presidents and general managers to head coaches, assistant coaches and chief scouts, are on hand as Longhorns show off their stuff each spring at Pro Timing Day.

As many as 150 NFL

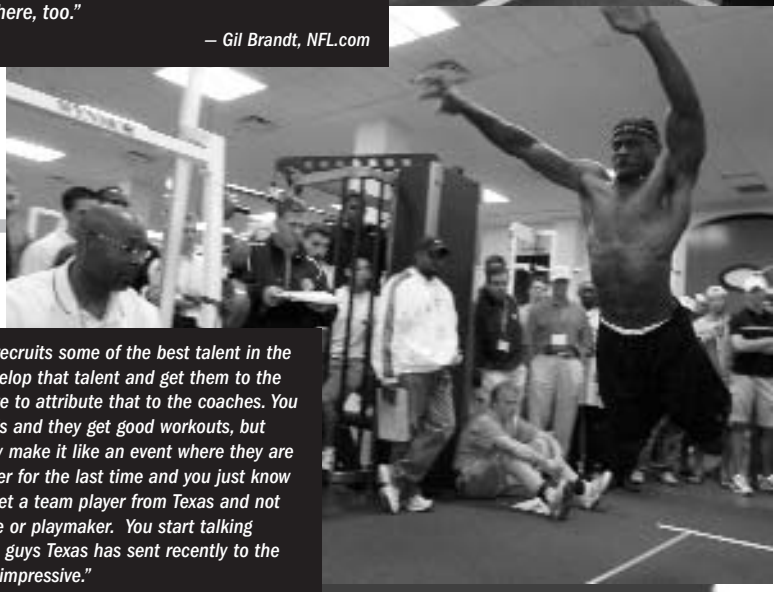
— Gil Brandt, NFL.com

Tim Crowder, Aaron Ross, Michael Griffin and Justin Blalock participated in the 2007 Senior Bowl.



New Orleans Saints head coach Sean Payton watches film with Aaron Ross on a pre-draft visit to Austin.

"Obviously, Texas recruits some of the best talent in the nation, and to develop that talent and get them to the next level, you have to attribute that to the coaches. You go to some schools and they get good workouts, but here at Texas, they make it like an event where they are all working together for the last time and you just know you are going to get a team player from Texas and not just a good athlete or playmaker. You start talking about some of the guys Texas has sent recently to the NFL and it is very impressive."

- Todd McShay, ESPN draft analyst

"Really, I think it's kind of a tradition passed on, because when I was coming out to Pro Day, I had guys like Quentin Jammer, Nathan Vasher, all those guys come back. It's kind of special for me to come back for the young guys and keep the tradition going."

"The University of Texas has been really great for the boys. The opportunities they have had here have allowed them to pursue their dream of going on to the NFL. It's been a dream come true."

— Mae Griffin, mother of Michael and Marcus Griffin

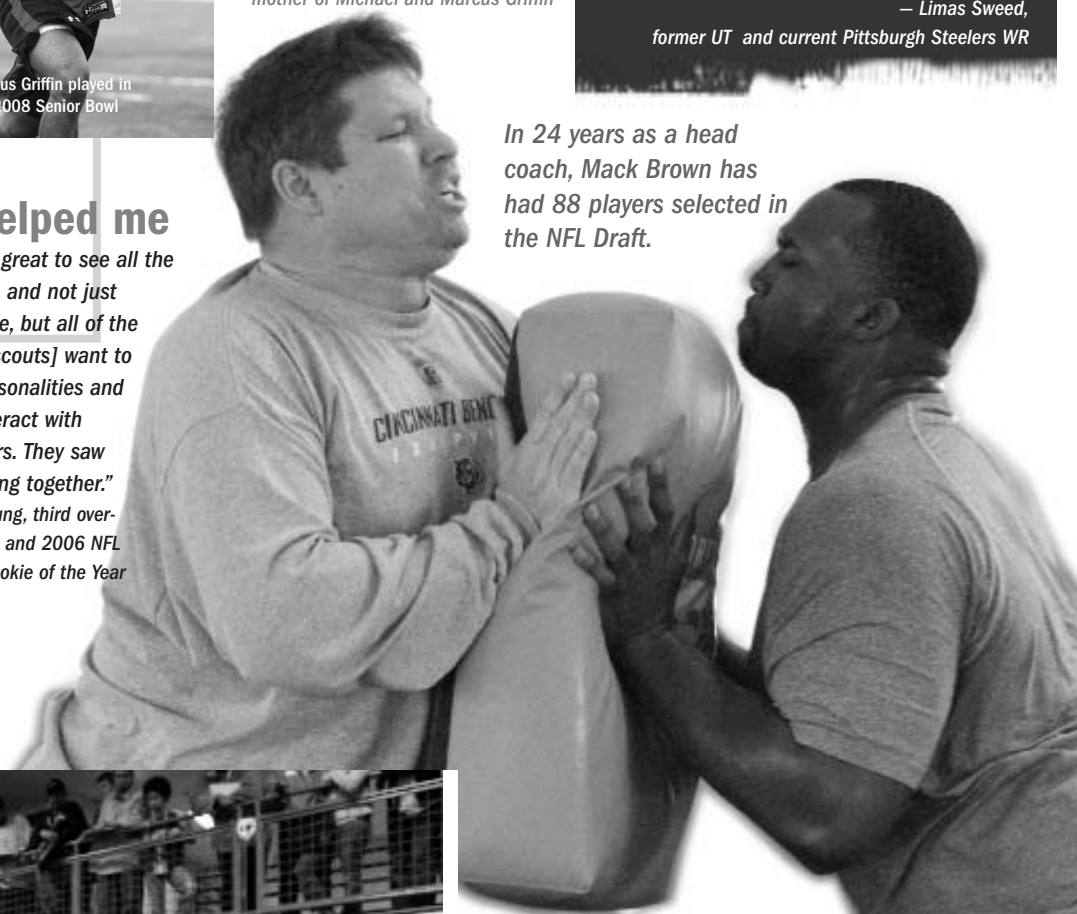
"It definitely was a big deal to compete in Pro Timing Day here because I missed half of my senior season. So, to come back today and be able to perform in front of friends and family is a great thing. It's kind of like winning your last home game."

— Limas Sweed, former UT and current Pittsburgh Steelers WR

"Pro Day helped me

a lot. It felt great to see all the teams here, and not just watching me, but all of the guys. [The scouts] want to see our personalities and how we interact with other players. They saw us all working together."

— Vince Young, third overall pick and 2006 NFL Rookie of the Year



In 24 years as a head coach, Mack Brown has had 88 players selected in the NFL Draft.

Jamaal Charles

"The biggest thing we do is prepare our guys all year long so they can do their best at Pro Timing Day. From the time they arrive as freshmen, we have them doing the same drills that they'll do when they get to a combine situation."

— Jeff Madden, UT Assistant Athletics Director for Strength and Conditioning

Dating back to 1986

when he was head coach at Tulane, Mack Brown has had at least one player selected in 23 straight NFL Drafts.

"It's great for us to be able to come back to a place where we played for five years, be able to come out in front of our families and coaches and show the NFL scouts what we have. The way they run it is very professional and I don't think there is a better Pro Day in the nation."

— Brian Robison, former Longhorn defensive end and current Minnesota VIking

"I think Texas is a classy place

They have guys with good character and guys that play hard, and those are the kinds of guys we're looking for. Texas players have historically been top of the line in terms of caliber of players, so they come into our league and they play well."

— Ted Thompson, Green Bay Packers executive vice president, general manager and director of football operations

Academic Success

Just in the last three years, Justin Blalock, Michael Huff, Frank Okam, Jonathan Scott, Kasey Studdard, Limas Sweed and David Thomas all had their degrees when they were drafted into the NFL.

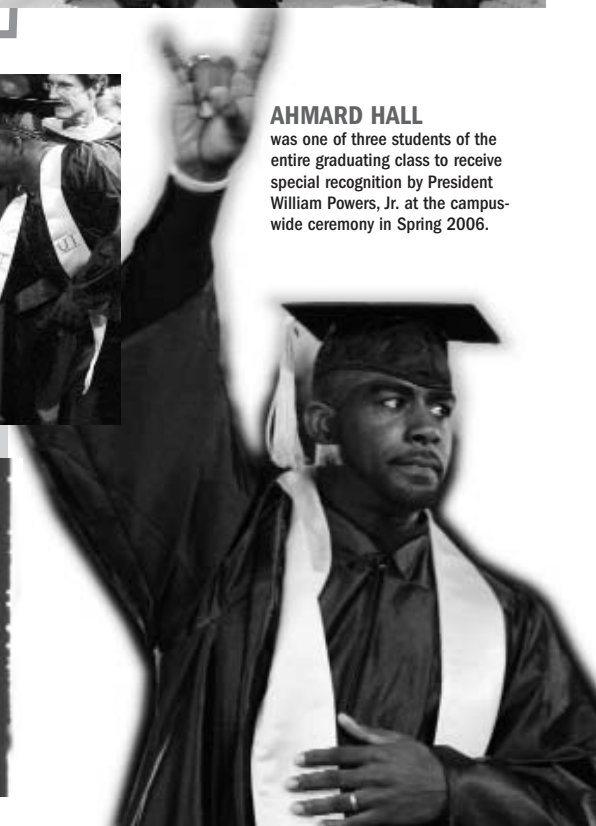
was one of three students of the entire graduating class to receive special recognition by President William Powers, Jr. at the campus-wide ceremony in Spring 2006.

Trey Bates graduated in May 2005 and joined fellow Longhorn Brett Robin in medical school at UT-San Antonio.

"I would tell any Longhorn player to take full advantage of the opportunity and don't hold back in the classroom or the football field. UT is a great opportunity and wonderful university that can help you accomplish great things."

— Pat Fitzgerald, 1996 first-team Academic All-American and first-team Associated Press All-American



Texas Angels and Gabriels

Comprised of students at The University, the Texas Angels and Gabriels are a group who assist in the day-to-day duties of the Texas football program. Providing campus and facilities tours, preparing scrapbooks for senior players and serving as mentors to freshman student-athletes are among the various other activities the group heads. They spend countless volunteer hours in promoting The University and assisting to ensure its first-class reputation in academics and athletics.
